Lafayette Board Fires Vallecito School Principal

By LARRY GLAZIER

By a single vote short of unanimity, the board of trustees of the Lafayette School District voted officially Monday night to relieve Mrs. Helen Cory of her duties as a principal in the district.

The 4-1 vote was taken before about 375 persons in the multi-purpose room of the Stanley School moments after the board reconvened following an hour and 17 minute closed meeting with Mrs. Cory.

Mrs. Robert Adams, a six-year member of the school board and immediate past president of the 32nd District of PTA, cast the lone dissenting vote.

BOARD Chairman Boardman Moore moved the special meeting to the Stanley School after the large gathering of interested parents and educators overflowed the regular board meeting room.

When the motion by Trustee W. B. Scarborough, relegating Mrs. Cory to a teaching position for the 1960-61 school year, was passed, Moore read an almost 500-word written statement.

The statement began, "The Lafayette School Board has regretfully come to a decision on the basis of objective observation over a long period and the advice of the administration to assign Mrs. Helen Cory to a teaching position next year rather than a principalship."

MRS. CORY, present principal at Vallecito School, has 13 years of teaching experience in the district, six of them as a principal.

In answer to a question from Eugene Lee, a Vallecito area resident, University of California professor, and brother of the chairman of the Acalanes Union High School board chairman, Moore indicated his statement had been written prior to the meeting.

Moore said, "I have just made some modifications in the statement in the last few moments."

Earlier in the evening, Lee served as a substitute for Philip Diamond, San Francisco attorney and another Vallecito parent, who has been serving as a friendly advisor to Mrs. Cory. Diamond was bedridden with a case of chickenpox and could not attend the meeting.

LEE READ a four-page statement prepared by Diamond, which said in part:

"I speak as a supporter of Helen Cory, and I do so in behalf of those parents and residents of Lafayette who believe that a teacher or principal of proved competence cannot be summarily discharged without impairing the educational effectiveness of the school district.

"This is not an adversary proceeding. The board and we are members of the same community, the same school district and are now separated by a table but nothing more. Our goals are identical, and the limited tools we have to work with are substantially similar. We are seeking the best possible education for our children as can be achieved only through the best possible administration of the schools. . . .

"WE ASK the board to reconsider its prior decision and to reappoint Mrs. Cory principal of Vallecito School. . . .

"The community is now agitated over matters regarding teacher-principal complaints that should not have been dignified by a single hour of anyone's time except the superintendent's. In this matter we believe the board has acted until now upon the recommendations of Ellis. We suggest that he must bear a large portion of the liability for allowing a situation to exist that destroyed the effectiveness of a principal, undermined a school faculty and stirred up the parents."

Board members heard members of the audience for 50 minutes before retiring to their executive session in another building. Moore said the closed session was requested by Mrs. Cory.

JUST BEFORE the meeting was temporarily adjourned Harvard P. Stewart charged that the board "is on trial and must justify its action." The board is obligated to vindicate itself, he stated, and should have an open trial.

Mrs. Gertrude Brown, a Burton School teacher, presented a letter supporting Mrs. Cory, signed by 33 teachers who at one time or another served under the deposed principal. Sixteen of the teachers are still in the district, four are in northern California and 13 others are out of the area.

The teachers' letter contended that Mrs. Cory is an extremely capable and efficient administrator who has great loyalties to her faculty and educational principles.

MRS. SAM GOLDEEN, outgoing president of the Burton PTA, from whence Mrs. Cory departed when she assumed the Vallecito post, asked, "How many fine educators have been inhibited from coming to the Lafayette district" by the board's action in the Cory matter?

William Bouton, Bay section representative of the California Teachers Association, met with the board, the administration and Mrs. Cory during the closed meeting.

Bouton served as advisor to the Lafayette Teachers Association committee on professional relations during its investigation of the Vallecito staff situation. The committee report was delivered to Superintendent W. B. Ellis, Mrs. Cory and the board hours before the meeting.

MOORE said the report "might corroborate a decision to relieve the principal," but he refused to release the information in the report because Mrs. Cory denied requests to make the findings public.

Bouton defended the anonymity of the testimony in the report and blamed newspaper coverage for disrupting the community. The CTA official charged the newspaper reports should not have been published.

Trustee Robert Pedder joined in the criticism of last week's newspaper coverage, stating it was only through the published reports that the firing of Mrs. Cory came to the public's attention.

Sign Up Still Open For Swim Classes

The Orinda recreation department still has openings in swim classes to be held at Miramonte pool. Students can sign up at Pine Grove School until July 1. After that date, sign ups will be held at the pool.

Classes will be supervised by Robert Sherman, physical education instructor at Pine Grove Grove School. Sherman has had 15 years experience as a swimming instructor.

THE PROGRAM will include classes for adults; for children 44 inches or more tall; and for children under 44 inches along with his parent, a "teach your child to swim" class.

There will be lifesaving, both junior and senior, the swim team and diving classes.

Classification tests for swimming are the following:

NON-SWIMMER, beginner, intermediate, advanced, life saving, parent-child group and diving.

The first session begins June 21 to July 2; second session, July 5 to July 16; third session, July 19 to July 30; fourth session, August 2 to August 13; fourth session, August 16 to August 27.

First session will be under the auspices of the Red Cross. Classes will run from 9 a.m. to 12:30 Tuesday through Saturday.

Girl Injured in Fall From Horse

Thirteen-year-old Harilyn Merriam was treated by a private physician Wednesday afternoon for a head cut suffered when she was thrown from her horse while riding to get help for a second horse that had been bitten by a rattlesnake.

Marilyn's horse, Lady, lost her footing and the girl was thrown to the pavement on Sandhill Road near the home of James Irwin above Sleepy Hollow. Irwin took her to a doctor's office after hearing her fall.

Irwin also called a Walnut Creek veterinarian who went into the hills to treat Bo, afilly owned by Irwin's daughter, Nancy, 13.

Bo was bitten several times in the leg by a rattler while Marilyn, Nancy and other companions were out riding. Two others stayed behind while Marilyn went for help.

The horse's leg swelled up considerably as a result of the nsake bites.

Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Merriam of 7 Van Tassel Lane.

Fluoridation Defeated; Rahn Retains Judgeship

Tabulated vote results show that although fluoridation was defeated in Alameda and Contra Costa Counties, it won in central Contra Costa communities.

Total yes votes from the communities of Alamo, Walnut Creek, Saranap, Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga and Canyon outnumbered the no votes by 4662.

Alameda County defeated fluoridation 119,540 to 84,576. Contra Costa vote was 33,569 to 39,907.

ALTHOUGH Judge Betsy FitzGerald Rahn won the judgeship for Walnut Creek Municipal Court, Joseph Longacre defeated her in Orinda, Moraga and Canyon.

Mel F. Neilsen, chairman of the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, running unopposed in the Second District, retains his supervisorial position.

Three state propositions passed without difficulty. Cal-Vet Bonds were given the go ahead with 55,857 yes votes to 40,541 no votes. School bonds received an emphatic 67,950 yes votes to 37,364 no votes. The third proposition, dealing with handling of state finances, was passed with a 50,-174 yes vote to 46,270 no votes.

KING PARKER, JR. of Alamo, Republican candidate for the State Senate from the 17th District was soundly defeated by George Miller, the incumbent. Vote tallies showed Miller with 59,618 votes to Parker's 38,597.

In the race for State Assembly from the 10th District, incumbent Jerome R. Waldie outdistanced George H. Krueger with a margin of 14,407 votes.

Douglas R. Page, Democrat, gathered more votes than the Republican incumbent, John F. Baldwin in the contest for a seat in Washington, representing the Sixth Congressional District. Total tally was Page, 69,665 and Baldwin, 53,652.

GOVERNOR Edmund G. Brown outdistanced Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Contra Costa County with slightly more than 4000 votes. However, total tabulation for counties within the state out Nixon in the lead with 987,081 to Brown's 895,315.

Only one contest in Contra Costa County's non-partisan elective battles will go to a runoff in the November primary. It is the race between veteran Supervisor Warren G. Buchanan of Pittsburg, representing the Fourth District and city official Emund Linscheid.

Complete, accurate tabulations, including the write-in votes were not expected to be completed until some time last night, after The Sun went to press. However, officials do not believe the write-in votes will appreciably change the political picture.

Republicans appear to have a slight edge statewide, but in Contra Costa County, the Democrats won all "popularity contests."

Fire Marshal Suggests Single Area Incinerator

Orinda's fire marshal suggested to members of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce Tuesday that local merchants jointly purchase one large incinerator for the entire business area of the community.

William Koch said such an incinerator probably would be the least expensive and cumbersome way of meeting Regulation No. 2 of the Bay Area Air Pollution District, which will become law October 1 and must be complied with by January 1.

THE REGULATION prohibits burning in commercially-zoned areas, Koch explained. He said that on January 1 all present incinerators in the business area will be sealed and violations will be punishable by law.

Pollution district regulations are for the purpose of cutting down smog conditions in the Bay Area, he added.

According to Koch, individual incinerators for stores in Orinda would have to meet district specifications and might cost anywhere from $8000 to $20,000 each. In contrasts, he said, the merchants could donate to one incinerator for the entire area and the total cost involved might be $25,000 or $30,000 for all contributors.

OTHER suggestions put forth by Koch for meeting the new district regulation and getting rid of waste materials were a pick up services which might be arranged through the present garbage disposal service or carrying the materials to the dump individually.

The fire marshall saidanother district regulation will require that automobiles have smog-control devices by 1963. He said autos contribute about a third to the air pollution problem in the Bay Area.

The meeting was conducted by Chamber President Bob Partridge.

Tomorrow Is Last Day for Rare Exhibit

In response to the public's interest, the exhibition of rare historical documents from the library of Mr. and Mrs. Perc S. Brown will continue at the Orinda Library through tomorrow.

Public school classes, Boy and Girl Scout Groups, as well as many residents from the East Bay area are visiting this exhibit of manuscripts, letters and documents, rich in American history.

Here you can see a survey done in George Washington's own hand when he was 18 years old; again, autographed by Washington is his famous Valley Forge address,

In another case you can see one of the few extant original copies of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain ending the revolutionary war, signed by Benjamin Franklin for the United States at Paris in 1787. There are also letters of Franklin, and one example in his own handwriting of some of his poetry.

There is also a personal letter of Jefferson to Benjamin Rush in which there is the first mention of the Lewis and Clark expedition. In the Lincoln case you can examine letters of Abraham Lincoln as well as an early draft of the emancipation proclamation alongside an autograph first edition of the final emancipation proclamation.

Board Authorizes Filing Of Preliminary Request

A preliminary application for construction of a district administration building was authorized by trustees of the Orinda Union School District Monday night.

Trustees thus gave Joseph L. Sheaff, superintendent of schools, permission to file an application for the 4000-square foot building with the State Division of School House Planning.

Final determination of whether or not the building will be constructed will be made by the school board when the application is acted upon, probably in about a month, according to Sheaff.

The superintendent has suggested construction of the administrative center in order to consolidate the district's offices and to provide needed room at Pine Grove and Orinda schools, where district administrators are located at present.

Location of the proposed building would be in front and west of the Pine Grove School.

Trustees also approved a handbook listing job classifications of non-certificated personnel in the district. New legislation requires that job description be listed in one of three ways, and the board selected the handbook as the most practical method.

Following a 90-minute discussion on the insurance policies of the district, the board voted to eliminate a duplication of coverage in the boiler insurance.

In other actions, the board:

1—Approved a practice teaching agreement with San Francisco State College for next year.

2—Scheduled the July meeting of the board for July 1, as required by state law. The board has to meet on that date in order to finalize the budget and because it is the beginning of the new fiscal year.

3—Elected five new teachers and accepted six resignations.

Pine Grove Meeting Is Scheduled

A special public meeting of the Orinda Association borad of directors will be held in the Orinda School at 7:30 p.m. Monday to consider the development proposal for the Pine Grove property.

Members of the association's planning committee, headed by Richard Bartle, will present their findings on the proposals of the Associated Investment Company of Oakland, owners of the property, to the board.

THE PLANNING Committee met Monday night to consider for the second time the owners' plans to construct modern, ranch-type administrative and business offices on the 10½-acre property.

Associated Investment has asked the directors to support its requests for four variances on the A-O zoning covering the land.

Vic Kingston, president of the local association, presented an outline of the proposals to trustees of the Orinda Union School District prior to Monday's meeting of the planning committee.

KINGSTON TOLD the school board that the requested variance which concerns the school district the most involves the elimination of a required 25-foot setback from the Pine Grove School property.

He recommended that the school board not take any action at this time, but wait until the matter has been acted on by the association and has gone to the County Board of Supervisors for determination.

SS Bonita Wins Award

Sea Explorer Ship Bonita of Orinda has returned from the three-day ancient mariner regatta with a schooner class award and fourth place in the swimming relay event. This ancient mariner regatta (an annual event) featured competition between some 80 Sea Explorer ships in 17 different events this week.

The winning of a schooner class award represents another step forward for the crew of the Bonita. There is only one higher class award. Skipper G. B. S. Ricketts says that mate John Spiegl and the crew are determined to achieve this higher award at the next regatta.

The competitive events are designed to test the skills of the crew members, both individually and as a team, developed during the course of the Sea Explorer program. In addition to the swimming relay, there were events such as eight-man pulling boat races, knot tying, splicing and whipping, signalling by blinker, throwing a ring buoy accurately to a prescribed target and many others.

The regatta was held at the Coast Guard Base on Government Island in Alameda. Ships competing hailed from all over California as well as up the coast to Portland, Oregon and as far inland as Salt Lake City.

Members of the crew who took part in the competition were Don Flenner, cox'n; Jim Gibbs (cox'n for the swimming relay event); Frank Hibbard, Anthony Roegiers, Brian Traynor, John Lathan, Jim Ricketts, Phil Gardner, Ken Wagner, Dick Sutliffe and Rich Gadd, all of Orinda.

Nursery School to Hold Graduation And Class Picnic

Plans are underway for graduation exercises of the Orinda Nursery School's Monday-Wednesday-Friday class, to be held Wednesday.

Mesdames David Barbieri and Hugh Johnson are in charge of the event which will begin at 9 a.m. At that hour the children will ride horses and see some small animals from the Oakland Park Department.

Following the entertainment the girls will receive bouquets and the boys boutonnieres, pictures will be taken and they will receive diplomas from Mrs. W. A. Patterson, director of the nursery school.

MRS. JOHN Peabody is in charge of flowers, Mrs. William Calhoun, decorations; Mrs. Glen Holtwick, food; Mrs. John Saunders, diplomas and Mrs. James Hart arranged for the animal display.

The Tuesday-Thursday class picnic will be held at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Donald Rogers is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Harry Fledderman, decorations, and Mrs. Carol DeFaria, food.

Lunch of sandwiches, pink lemonade and ice cream, will be served at the end of the morning for both the picnic and the graduation.

The Tuesday-Thursday children will also enjoy the animals and Happy, the clown, will be on hand with his merry-go-round.

Friends and relatives are invited to both events.

AT THE May business meeting of the nursery school, the following officers were elected for the 1960-61 year: President, Mrs. Raymond Smith; vice president, Mrs. Carl Strang; secretary, Mrs. Stephen Stewart; treasurers, Mrs. Thomas Fitch and Mrs. Mary Ford.

Also, maintenance, Mrs. Stewart Madin; purchasing, Mrs. Arthur Holmlund; publicity, Mrs. Harry Fledderman; visitors, Mrs. Richard Cotter; hostesses, Mrs. John Schlicktmann.

The following chairmen have been appointed by the president: Tuesday-Thursday class membership, Mrs. Charles Legge; Monday-Wednesday-Friday class membership, Mrs. Wayne Carter; class participation, Mrs. David Weldon and Mrs. Ronald Boies; education, Mrs. Donald Rogers; health, Mrs. William Johnston; registration, Mrs. Paul Goodall; telephone, Mrs. Ted Rimer; dance, Mrs. William Rieger.

Graduation Is Tonight At Canyon

Two graduates of Canyon Elementary School, Judy Marie Ellison and Grant Allen Engle, will receive their diplomas tonight. Graduation exercises will be held at Canyon School, starting at 8 p.m. with presentation of the Flag.

Scott Tenney, master of ceremonies for the evening, will lead the audience in the Salute to the Flag. Invocation will be given by Richard Day. Next the thirteen students of the four upper grades will sing a group of old English folk songs, led by their teacher, James Hatch.

THE GRADUATION play, "What Happened to a Young Man Who Married a Wild and Unruly Wife" will have in its cast most of the "big" room pupils; Grant Engle, as the innocent husband, and Lorraine Ellison as his unruly wife.

The play, written and staged by the upper-grade pupils, was taken from a story of married bliss in twelfth-century Spain.

An Epilogue depicts "What happened to a modern young man of 1870 who married a shrewish wife in southwestern United States." Pierre Reiter will play the harassed husband and Kathy Black his young wife.

The prophecy and will of the 1960 graduates will then be read.

Richard Knipe, invited by the graduates to be guest speaker, will give the graduation address. Mrs. Philomena Drake will give Grant and Judy class pins and present them with diplomas.

Benediction will be by Mr. Day. Decorations, done by the mothers, will carry out school colors by using fern and other greenery and white flowers. White carnation boutonnieres and corsages will be provided by the Canyon Community Club.

Grant has attended all eight grades in the little two-room redwood school beside the creek. Judy, who lives at Valle Vista, has been at Canyon School for the last two years.

Two Orindans to Receive Degrees

Joyce Elizabeth Hudd and James L. McDonald Jr. will receive the degree of bachelor of science in commencement exercises Sunday at the University of Oregon.

President O. Meredith Wilson will deliver the "Charge to the Graduating Class" and confer the degrees.

Joyce resides at 22 Los Palumas and James is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. McDonald, 9 Las Aromas, both of Orinda.

Bank President to Address St. Mary's Graduates

S. Clark Beise, president of Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association, will deliver the principal address at the 97th annual commencement at St. Mary's College tomorrow and will receive the honorary degree Doctor of Laws from the college.

Also to receive the LL.D. will be an eminent woman educator, Dr. Magda B. Arnold, professor of psychology at Loyola University (Chicago).

TWO OTHERS will receive special recognition from St. Mary's at the commencement exercises. They are the Very Reverend Daniel J. Keenan, pastor at St. Paul's Catholic Church in Coalinga for the past 15 years, and Mrs. Frederick T. West, a past president of the St. Mary's College Guild.

Both will receive the St. Mary's College president's award, inaugurated last year to acknowledge outstanding individual contributions of time and talent to "the goals of higher education."

A Minnesotan by birth, Beise is today one of California's leading citizens. He has been head of the world's largest financial institution since March 16, 1954, and in 1957 was selected by Forbes Magazine as one of the 50 foremost businessmen in America.

BEISE HAS been active in Bay Area affairs and is a member of the board of directors of the Golden Gate Chapter American National Red Cross; the board of governors of the United Bay Area Crusade; the board of directors of the Stanford Research Institute, and a trustee of the Bay Area Council.

For a number of years a member of the National Industrial Conference Board, in 1954 he was elected to membership on the committee for economic development, and in 1959 was named to the business advisory council for the Department of Commerce.

Among the honors he has received is the outstanding achievement award of the University of Minnesota, the university's highest award to alumni; the economic statesmanship award from Seattle University; and the order of merit of the Italian Republic.

A WORLD War I veteran who saw service in France, Beise is married to the former Virginia Carter of Jackson, Michigan, and has two children—Sally Ann and Carter. The family lives at 420 El Cerrito Avenue, Hillsborough.

The second honorary doctorate to be awarded by St. Mary's at commencement exercises will be conferred on Dr. Magda B. Arnold, who emigrated to Canada from her native Czecho-Slovakia in 1928.

Since receiving her doctorate from the University of Toronto, Dr. Arnold has served as visiting lecturer at Wellesley College; associate professor at Bryn Mawr, where she headed the psychology department; professor and head of the psychology department at Barat College, Lake Forest, Ill. She has been professor of psychology in both the graduate and undergraduate divisions of Loyola University since 1952.

IN 1958 Dr. Arnold became the first woman to serve on the faculty at St. Mary's College when she was visiting professor during the summer graduate program.

Degrees and honors at the Saturday afternoon program in Poplar Grove on the Moraga Valley campus will be presented by the Most Reverend Merlin J. Guilfoyle, D.D., J.C.D., auxiliary bishop of San Francisco.

Rheem School To Hold Graduation Exercises Wed.

Commencement exercises for Rheem School eighth graders will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Moraga School auditorium.

Dr. Frank Bradford, administrative services director of the county schools office, will give the address. Diplomas will be presented by Robert Trask, eighth grade teacher, and Donald Falconer, board chairman.

Gary Kopp will be the valedictorian and Donna Salet will be salulitorian.

A party for the graduates will be held next Saturday at the Lake Merritt Hotel in Oakland.

Awards presentation for the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be made by Zack Rogers, seventh grade teacher, and R. D. Higgenson, 14th district, VFW.

The 16 graduates are Stephanie Clark, Richard Davis, Douglas Dermit, Nadine Divine, Donald Franklin, Kathleen Gesinger, Susan Hammond, Gary Kopp, Michele LeBlond, Sharon Mekonin, Richard Putnam, Thomas Read, Donna Salet, Jayne Saxton, Carol Sousa and Bob Waldred.

St. Mary's Tells Awards to Be Given Tomorrow

Highest individual award to a graduating senior, the De La Salle medal, will be presented to mathematics major Thomas Kiley at the 97th annual commencement of St. Mary's College tomorrow on campus.

Kiley will also speak as class valedictorian. A magna cum laude graduate, he will attend Brown University for graduate work under a national defense fellowship.

Scholarship, character and devotion to college ideals are criteria for the annual De La Salle award presentation.

RECEIVING THE philosophy medal at the graduation exercises will be Denis Kelly, a Los Angeles philosophy and English major. Senior English major Laurence Christman of Portland will receive the George R. Miliken medal for outstanding devotion to student affairs.

Premier presentation of the Robert P. Rood award for the outstanding pre-medical student will be made to Antone Salel of Oakland, a biology and chemistry major.

Brother Richard Angeles, FSC, a psychology cum laude graduate from Sacramento, will receive the B. P. Oliver citizenship award.

Sole junior honored at the graduation will be Armando Rendon, editor this year of the college newspaper. He will receive the Collegian medal for exceptional work in student journalism.

PRESIDENT'S award will be presented to Right Reverend Monsignor Daniel J. Keenan and Mrs. Frederick West for devotion to the goals of higher education.

Monsignor Keenan is pastor of St. Pauls Catholic Church, Coalinga. Past president of the St. Mary's College Guild, Mrs. West is a resident of San Francisco.

Outdoor living in the heart of the city

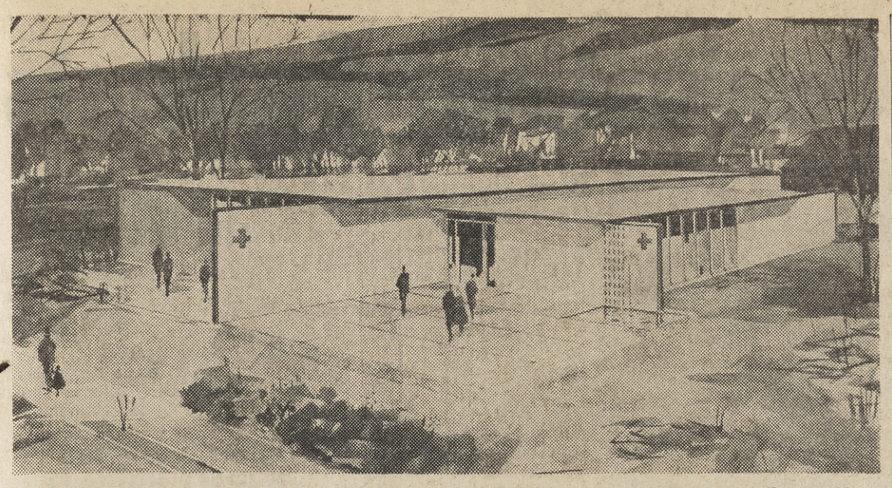
You won't have to get a hibachi when you buy an apartment-home in the Lake Royal. On this rooftop patio there are two huge built-in barbecues. Here, you could entertain a hundred friends at once, or have a private family party anytime. The patio and its facilities are yours to enjoy, but not to take care of. Building maintenance is covered by your monthly payment. Services such as gardening, doorman and garage are included, too, along with your share of the mortgage loan, interest, insurance, taxes, water and heat. Total bill: $190 per month, if you owned the least expensive apartment-home; up to $325 per month if you owned the most expensive one. Chances are, you will save money by moving to the Lake Royal. To find out about attractive new purchase terms, and to see model apartment-homes, call Coldwell, Banker & Company weekdays, GL 1-7300. Or, visit the Lake Royal today or any day between 1:30-4:30 p.m.
The Lake Royal, 177 Nineteenth Street, Oakland.

THE LAKE ROYAL



RED CROSS members of the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter have seen this architect's concept of their new building on Ygnacio Valley Road, and are happy. It is easy to see why.

New Red Cross Building To House Bigger Program

The new "home" of the Greater Mt. Diablo Red Cross, a $50,000 building which leaders hope will be occupied by December on the south side of Ygnacio Valley Road, has been designed to accommodate activities expanded two and three times in the past few years.

The new site, a full acre, is being leased from the Paul Lawrence family. It is about a quarter mile east of Homestead Avenue.

The building will be called the "Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Leech Memorial Building" after two people who helped charter the local chapter in 1898, several years before the actual founding of the National Red Cross.

IT WILL HAVE some 3000 square feet of interior space plenty for an auditorium and classroom seating about 60 people, three offices for volunteers and paid personnel, and other facilities.

The $50,000 price tag includes utilities and improvements.

The building will be equipped with emergency power and it will become a disaster headquarters in civil defense emergencies.

The old building at 1395 Civic Drive had been leased from the city for 30 years, and 11 of those years have expired. There is only 1800 square feet of space.

Karl Mahler, chapter manager, said, "The memorial building will be financed by the $25,000 paid by the city for our leasehold rights in the Civic Drive building we now occupy, and balance comes from special contributions, gifts and legacies specifically earmarked for building purposes.

THESE SUMS have been given by local residents and organizations over a period of many years. We owe a great deal to them," he said.

Mahler added, "In this manner we will not use one penny of operational funds for the building."

Architect firm is Smidts and Hardeman of Berkeley. Bidding for the job will probably be open next week, and will close July 15. The improvements will include 500 feet of mainline sewer.

CONSTRUCTION should begin by August 1.

The announcement of the new construction coincided with the chapter's 62nd annual meeting, a barbecue held Monday evening at the Walnut Creek City Park.

Richard Hurley, Berkeley Savings manager, was elected chapter chairman, succeeding Mrs. Arthur Hammond.

Robert I. Schroder became first vice chairman; Mrs. Julius Loeb of Walnut Creek, second vice chairman; Berle Chadwick of Pittsburg, third vice chairman; Mrs. Edward Miller, secretary; Eldo Ewert, treasurer.

Mrs. Hammond was presented with a silver serving set. She had been chapter chairman for two years and a member for 10.

MAHLER SAID that all phases of the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter's overall program had grown — such as the water safety program, which last fiscal year issued 458 certificates, but this year issued 1572.

Another example is that some 571 volunteer hours were needed last fiscal year for the Service to Armed Forces Program. But this fiscal year, the total jumped to 2340 volunteer hours.

The chapter has almost 660 active volunteers, one of the best known of whom is Mrs. Isabella McGeehon, a 40-year veteran.

A few of the new efforts include a new Red Cross learn-to-swim program beginning June 21 at Miramonte High. The Orinda Recreation Department is cooperating.

ALSO THE LEARN to swim program in West Pittsburg and the upgrading of the Handicapped Swim Program to permanent status in September, the end of the six months "experimental" program.

The Junior Gra-Ladies have just completed six months of their own new program, where they visit local rest homes on a regular basis.

One way to measure Red Cross service is to guess what it would be like if it were not provided.

There were some 700 home service cases, requiring 2276 volunteer hours, also 3000 telephone calls, 470 telegrams, during a 24-hour per day service.

THE LOCAL chapter provided entertainment for some 5000 persons at Oak Knoll Naval Hospital and other military and naval hospitals.

Some 367 first aid certificates were awarded.

Gra-Lady service totaled 2139 volunteer hours, and 9500 patients were served.

About 45 schools participate in Junior Red Cross and 4000 boys and girls are involved. Volunteer hours: 2916.

VOLUNTEERS drove 45,000 miles in "Motor Service" activities. Much of this driving is to various hospitals.

The "Fund Drive" committee required 800 volunteer hours. It was reported that the Red Cross received about 70 per cent of the chapter needs.

About $49,000 was needed. United Crusade provided almost $34,000, and a supplemental campaign produced another $6000.

The women who directed all this — Mrs. Hammonds — said in her final message: "The past year has been a year of growth . . . growth in each program . . . and in our better understanding of community needs . . . "

" . . . I know you will keep up the good work and that each of us will expend an even greater effort in the years to come."

Rahn Speaks To Realtors

Municipal Judge Betsy Fitz-Gerald Rahn spoke Monday at a breakfast session of the Contra Costa real estate board.

The realtors met in the Walnut Creek Elks Club.

Obituaries

Sutherland

A requiem mass for Mrs. Adele Sutherland, 82, of 2488 Westcliffe Lane, Walnut Creek, was held Monday in the Most Precious Blood Church.

Mrs. Sutherland died last Friday in a Martinez hospital. She leaves two sons, James of Walnut Creek and Norman of San Francisco.

Hancock

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Mrs. Fern Lucille Hancock, 36, of 110 Whittier Road, who died Sunday in a Walnut Creek hospital.

A resident of Pleasant Hill for six years, Mrs. Hancock is survived by her husband, Wayne, two children, Timothy and Pamela; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Faye Webster Sr. of Nebraska, and four sisters and a brother living in Nebraska.

County Park Commission Gets Vice Chairman

Francis H. Pullen, president of the Contra Costa division of the California Pacific Title Company, was elected vice chairman of the Contra Costa County park commission.

He fills a vacancy left by the resignation of Thomas Wilson of Richmond.

Gordon Langlois of El Cerrito has been appointed to the commission to complete Wilson's unexpired term.

Ray Thayer, former assistant planning department, was transferred into the Contra Costa County park department as park planner.

Artists in Art and Garden Show Named; 'Lively View'

Artists who will participate in the Valley Art Center's Annual Art and Garden Show, June 26, were listed this week by exhibition chairman Mrs. Parker Stack

The show will be held from 4 to 7:30 in the Peter Howards' garden at 2385 Walnut Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

It will offer a fresh and lively view of the arts in a collection of uncommon art forms using new and unusual materials, said Mrs. Stack.

HAL PAINTER of San Francisco is sending to the show a tapestry and a rug which combines wool and fur with eye-stopping effect.

Kay Sekimachi, Berkeley artist, is also showing a tapestry as well as some of her intriguing woven room dividers.

The translucent plastic panels sent to the show by San Francisco's Freda Koblick may be placed as dividers or to flank a doorway. Miss Koblick also groups panels in dramatically impressive screens.

Among the sculptors contributing to the Valley Art Center exposition is Tio Giambruni of Berkeley who will be represented by works in metal and in magnescite.

EVERETT TURNER, also of Berkeley, has promised the exhibit a hanging steel sculpture.

Lafayette's talented Vesta Vetter is now completing a rug for the coming show.

A dozen more artists of stature will be represented at the exhibition. A complete list of exhibitors will be available next week, said Mrs. Stack.

Visitors in the Howard gardens will be invited to sample fine California vintages in a wine-tasting arranged by the Christian Brothers.

An additional feature of the exposition will be an advanced student show of mosaics.

Tickets for the show at $3 a couple may be obtained by writing Mrs. Mackenzie Porter, 4015 Happy Valley Road.

All donations will go to the Valley Art Center's permanent building fund.

Welfare Council Again Elects Wakefield Taylor

Superior Court Judge Wakefield Taylor of Martinez was re-elected president of the Central Community Welfare Council at the fourth annual luncheon meeting last week at Concord Inn.

Others re-elected were Mrs. Harmon Howard of Walnut Creek, first vice president, Mrs. John G. Kelly, Walnut Creek, second vice president, Joseph Filice, Martinez, treasurer.

Replacing Mrs. Tudor Jones Jr. as secretary will be Mrs. John Langdon Taylor of Pleasant Hill.

"There is no substitute for planning at the grass roots," guest speaker Dr. Wayne McMillen, executive director of the Bay Area Welfare Planning Federation, said before the 125 guests.

"However, certain types of concerns need a much wider approach," he said.

"The kinds of study which should take place on a wider level such as the five-county Bay Area would be those in which enough facts about the problem have to be gathered to make intelligent plans or those in which wide feeling and support must be rallied in order to get something done about the problem."

Elected board members are Mrs. Robert J. Adams of Lafayette; Reed Buffington, Concord; Miss Jeanne Christy, Lafayette; Byron T. Cross, Pleasant Hill; Rev. A. S. Gilmartin, Walnut Creek; Ralph Lopez, Concord; Dr. Sara Malin, Walnut Creek; and Mrs. Charles Pratt Jr. of Walnut Creek.

Continuing on the board will be Mrs. Jack Dana of Lafayette; Mrs. R. C. Fehliman, Concord; Mrs. Lee Kidwell, Walnut Creek; Donald Morrison, Lafayette; and Mrs. John C. Taylor of Danville.

The dinner committee had Chairman Mrs. John G. Kelly of Walnut Creek; Miss Lillian Wurzel of Walnut Creek; Miss Mary McGrath; and Earl Den Beste of Martinez.

Nominations committee chairman was Lloyd Frost of Martinez.

The Crusade-supported council offices are located at 2030 North Main Street, Walnut Creek. Mrs. Sigrid G. Salmon is acting director.

FORT BRAGG

Fort Bragg, located in Mendocino County, is reported by the National Automobile Club to have been established as a military post in 1857.

Eastbound Lanes Of Tunnel Will Get Cleaning

Semi-annual cleaning of the interior of the Caldecott Tunnel (formerly Broadway Low Level) on Highway 24 between Alameda and Contra Costa counties will begin Tuesday along with minor repairs.

Work will be underway in the eastbound bore between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday and again on Tuesday, June 21. During these periods eastbound traffic will be routed through the westbound bore.

On Wednesday, June 22, 1960, the westbound bore will be closed during the same hours and all traffic will use the eastbound bore.

Traffic controls will be in operation at the approaches to the tunnel and motorists are urged to reduce speed to conform to traffic conditions.

Traffic volumes are lighter during the above period than during other hours of the working day and a minimum of inconvenience will be caused motorists.

Both bores of the tunnel will be available for motorists during morning and evening peak hours.

Reverend Pothier Accepts New Post

Reverend William Pothier, for the past year associate pastor at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda, has accepted the post of vicar of St. Philip's Episcopal Church in the neighboring community of El Sobrante, it was announced this week.

During his tenure at the local church Father Pothier has done outstanding work among the young people of the area, devoting many hours to personal counseling both in the church and in the community.

HE HAS spoken to many parents' and community groups, and has inspired the youth group at St. Stephen's to sponsor post-game dances at the church and to offer after-school recreation facilities.

A measure of the regard in which he is held by the young people in the area is that he has been asked to participate in the graduation ceremonies at Pine Grove and Miramonte High School and in the baccalaureate service at Acalanes High School.

HIS SON, Bob, will be graduated from Miramonte next week, after which the family will take a month's vacation.

Cub Pack 211 Hosts Sleepy Hollow Children

Friday night Cub Pack 211 was host to the children of Sleepy Hollow School, at the last formal meeting of their Scouting year. Guest speaker Russ Cone, director of the Calo rescue unit, told the audience of the dangers of being lost.

He said, "If you are lost, admit it to yourself. Then, observe the five following rules to help searchers find the missing person: 1, Stay where you are; 2. Make a windbreak; 3. Hang a white garment where it can be seen; 4. Make noise by pounding a stick on a tree; 5. Eat anything that does not taste bad nor have a milky sap."

Bear badges were earned by Marshall Moran, Jack Miller and Mark McNeely. A Wolf silver arrow was earned by Steve Barker, a Wolf gold arrow by Clint Lorch, and Lion silver arrow by Buddy Grah.

Cubmaster G. Curtis presented Webelos badges to the following: Cliff Campbell, Rex Scatena, Carter Irwin, Buddy Grah, Bobby Markstein, Buzzy Ward, Billie Alderton, Craig Reiser, Jack Kessler, Steve Schnugg, Don Moore, Kent Dickinson, Gus Felice, Jim Talbot and Brian Cantrill.

Den chief braid, the badge of rank, was presented to Scouts Louis Browning, Jeff Reiser and Kit Renwick.

Miramonte To Graduate 203 Thurs.

Miramonte High School football field will be filled Thursday evening, when proud parents and friends gather to watch graduation exercises for 203 Miramonte senior young men and women.

The Processional and musical selections will be presented by the Miramonte High School Band, Gorden Mallory, director.

REVEREND William Pothier of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will give the invocation, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance, led by James Boyd. Milton W. How, senior class president will welcome the audience and present Ruth Ann Thompson who will give the first of two senior class speeches.

"Halls of Ivy" will be the musical selection rendered by the Miramonte High School Girls' Glee Club. Robert Newman will then present the second senior class speech. Neil M. Parsons, district superintendent of schools will make the presentation of awards. The senior class will be presented by James A. Lewis, principal.

THE LONG awaited diplomas will be given by Dr. Ralph C. Hall, member of the board of trustees, who will be assisted by Mario Guarneri, Student Body president.

The second annual Baccalaureate for graduating seniors of Miramonte will be held Sunday at the school gymnasium. Reverend Chauncey Blossom of the Orinda Community Church will give the Baccalaureate address.

Reverend Allen Southwell of the Baptist Church, Moraga, will give the invocation, followed by Scripture reading by Reverend John Dodson of the Moraga-Orinda Methodist Church. The Miramonte High School Choir, under the direction of Gordon Mallory will present the Lord's Prayer and also play for the processional and recessional.

Betsey Schaefer Will Get Degree At Pomona

Betsy (cq) Schaefer of Orinda is among the 226 candidates for bachelor of arts degrees at Pomona College's 67th commencement in Claremont at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Dr. Samuel B. Gould, chancellor of the University of California at Santa Barbara, will be the commencement speaker. His subject will be "The Exhilaration of Adversity."

Miss Schaefer is the daughter of Mrs. Eleanor M. Schaefer, 3 Overhill Road. She is a 1956 graduate of Berkeley High School, where she was active on school publications.

A languages major at Pomona, Miss Schaefer has been active on the Student Life, college newspaper, and a member of the aquacade.

Latest Election News of Officers, Pom-Pon Girls

By JULE' NOLLER

Elections for class officers and tryouts for assistant yell leaders and pom-pon girls were held last week at Miramonte.

Bill Caldwell is now president of the senior class of 1961. Presiding with Bill on the senior council will be vice president of the class, Joan Eberhart; secretary John Hagle; treasurer, Lari Axelsen; and social secretary, Connie Cook.

The new junior class officers are Jim Rose, president; Mike McGuire, vice president; Karen Rigor, secretary; and Marc Jacobs, treasurer. This class showed a lot of school spirit and enthusiasm by having 25 sophomores running for the four offices.

Clint DeWitt will be the president of next year's sophomore class. The other class officers include Charles Brock, vice president; Barbara Brush, secretary; and Jackie Villata, treasurer.

Out of the 32 or more girls who tried out for pompon girls on June 1, only eight were chosen. These deserving winners were Connie Cook, Pam Pearson, Roz Starkman, Sharon Croci, Mary Moorehead, Nancy Englehard, Pam Oakes and Jan Miller. The two alternates are Margo Corona and Patsy Kelly.

Assisting head yell leader, Rick Bagley will be Lynn Bickerstaff, John Googins, Joanne Hall and Tina Cole. These five will be the spirit rousers for next year's football and basketball games.

Barb Syverud will again be a majorette next year — her fourth in a row. Barb will perform along with Lynn Davis and Darnella Paltino during rallies and athletic events.

The seniors who worked hard on the senior ball must have felt it was worth the sleepless nights, exhaustion, frustration and sickness after it turned out to be such a success. Enid Hennessey, who is social secretary of the senior class, organized five committees for the ball.

Diane Traverso and Kurt Lundblad were responsible for the fantastic decorating job which turned the immense Miramonte gym into a garden for the "Southern Cotillion" theme. Under Diane and Kurt, the seniors worked all Friday nite and Saturday building a gazebo for Ben Meltzer's band, an outside patio with a fountain, ivy covered pillars, wall murals and 84 decorated tables.

The students entered the auditorium by way of the stage where they were announced by Ginny Allen's father before they descended the stair case into the dance.

Noel Jones was in charge of the girls' ball bids which were shaped in the form of a lacy parasol. Michele Angelo handled the publicity for the dance, which included artistic posters around school and daily announcements over the P.A. system. Sue Henry was in charge of refreshments which were served to the guests by students from Pine Grove and Donald L. Rheem School. Jeff Neighbor took charge of cleaning up the gym after the big event on Sunday afternoon.

The students really made a big night out of the senior ball. Most of them went out to dinner before and to parties after. Those who held parties before and after the dance were Tom Miles, Sue Sharp, Sylvia Bolman, Bob Newman, Judy Ageno, Peggy Bowler, Kathie Calhoun, Jim Botto and Noel Jones.

BATTERY CARE TIP

With batteries operating more equipment than ever before, they need more regular attention, according to the National Automobile Club. Inspections twice monthly should be a minimum.

Sunday evening at 7 p.m. the Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet. The Committee on Christian Citizenship and Outreach will conduct the meeting. All high-school youth are invited. Next Saturday the MYF will attend "Youth Day" at the California-Nevada Annual Conference of Methodist Churches held in Stockton.

Thursday the Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet at 11:30 at the home of Mrs. Andrew Kritscher, 1111 Hilltop Drive, with a potluck lunch at noon.

Saturday the Second Milers will have their regular meeting at 8 p.m.

Episcopal

Trinity Sunday services of Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m. and morning prayer with a sermon by the Reverend C. Corwin Calavan, rector, at 9 and 11 a.m. will be held at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Stephen's Drive and Las Vegas Road, Orinda.

The Reverend William Pothier, associate pastor, will assist with the services, and Donald Loach, musical director at the church, will be at the organ for the two later services.

Church school will meet for the last time before the summer recess, with classes for kindergarten through eighth grade at 9 o'clock and for three year olds through fifth grade at 11.

Graduation exercises, at which attendance certificates will be presented, will be held in the church during both services. Nursery care for younger children will be available at the David Wenrich home, 14 St. Stephen's Drive.

At the 9 o'clock service faithful service awards will be given to the junior choir as follows: Ebony cross with black cord (100 points) to Donna Peake and Bryan Cantrill; red ribbons on ebony cross (200 points) to Tina Colony, Andree Pothier, Marilyn Titmus, Pamela Ferguson, Barbara Gould, Jan Allen and Robert McFarland.

Green ribbons (300 points) will go to Janet Gilwee, Susan Ward, Jimmy James and Andrew Cayting; purple ribbons (400 points) to Carolyn Bignami, Jack Kessler and Buzzie Ward; white ribbons (500 points) to Barbara Bascom, Nancy Spear and Cyndy Hamilton.

Silver crosses on black cords (600 points) will go to Susan Spencer and Douglas DeCosta; red ribbons on silver cross (700 points) to Dorothy Spear and Jorene DeCosta; and purple ribbons (900 points) to Valerie Renwick and Susan Smyth.

At the 11 o'clock service members of St. Bridgit's Guild (junior Altar Guild) will be installed. They are Sharon Calavan, Sue Campbell, D'Ann Christie, Nancy Hanley, Nancy Henry, Sue Kronke, Bonny McCready, Mary Moorehead, Carol Pedersen, Denise Pothier and Ellen Van Voorhis.

Coffee will be served in the patio following each service.

On Tuesday the vestry will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the basement of the rectory. Church school teachers will meet for a training session in Hill Memorial Hall at 8 p.m.

The regular mid-week service of Holy Communion will be held on Wednesday at 10 a.m.

Next week the summer schedule of service will go into effect, with Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m. and other services at 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. Nursery care will be available at the Wenrich home, 14 St. Stephen's Drive.

Presbyterian

"The poor people in West Virginia & the factories & smoke are a far cry from the complacent ranch-house inhabitants & the hills of Orinda that I loved so much for so long . . ." Betty & Larry Rodgers who are living in S. Charleston, W. Va., due to a job change, made the quick move recently & didn't have a chance to say Goodbye to everyone. Betty writes they'll move into a new Calif. ranch house on a high hilltop soon & being an artist, she'll be finding new themes for painting.

BETTY RODGERS was to have opened "Collector's Gallery" in Oakland w/Mary Bishop but due to the move, Katherine Wallace is the gal who'll partner the Gallery w/Mary . . . The ladies announce Open House at the new studio located at 482 Lake Park Ave., Oakland through June 12th—10-5 daily. For a preview of paintings, sculptures, photography, drop in on your local hostesses!

Dorothy & Ray Grassi are the proud parents of a big bouncing boy—that being Betty's son Bill whom they've taken under their wing while he finishes school here . . . Betty's dghtr. Daryl (who has dramatic ambitions after a stint behind footlights in SF (w/Brigadoon) looks forward to a reunion w/her mother in the Fall.

In Apple-blossom time . . .

MAYTIME SWEETHEARTS . . . Patricia Owens & Robert Ortland were married May 29 at Santa Maria Church & who cares that the organ broke down? . . . Not the Bridge & Groom who were honeymooning last week. On their return, they'll set up housekeeping "at home" in Lafayette, he being w/the Moraga Fire Dept.

The new Mrs. Ortland, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson will, by her marriage, have four new brothers-in-law—Dan, Bill, John & Leo Jr. (Leo served as his brother's Best Man at the nuptials) . . . Pat's new sister-in-law Mary Jean, who was to walk down the aisle as Bridesmaid, fell victim to the Mumps & had to miss all the excitement!

Reception following the ceremony . . . the receiving line in the living room of the house & gardens (on Honey Hill Rd.) of the bride's parents . . . Here, the senior Leo Ortlands greeting guests . . . Bob & Marcia Singer, the Walt Sheppards, Walter Hendricks . . . Elvie Westphals coming from across the street . . . Pam Schmidt among the bride's contemporaries

THE WOODSY patio pretty for the post-wedding party . . . White doves (paper pigeon variety) nesting in the ivy . . . The champagne bar flowing w/toasts & felicitations . . . Dr. & Mrs. Cecil Cutting (Millie, the life of the party!) ducking out in time to see their dghtr. ride in the 4-H Gymkhana at the Joseph Longs' . . . Dr. & Mrs. Louis Bado, Mary Reynolds, the bride's twin brother Tom crowding around for the cake-cutting.

The Dick Naismiths—Dick & Lois Broderick some of those tossing rice at the newlywedtwosome as they dashed off, destination unknown.

GONE WITH THE WIND . . . The Bill Marshalls & their dghtr. Pam heading for Sausalito & dinner at Ondine's last Sat. night . . . The Bill Leonards playing golf at Pasatiempo nr. Santa Cruz . . . The Ed McGahs in the overflowing Fairmont crowd to hear Errol Garner . . . & Ward Huntington, home from a Carmel trip w/the news that he & the Pine Inn mgr. spent a cool, cool evening in the company of Frank Sinatra. (The women, Ward, will want to know ALL about it!)

SPENDING LAST wknd. at Alisal Ranch together, the Andy Hartanovs, the John Ogdens . . . John & Gertrude recently gave a grand-scale B'day party, for all their friends from the store . . . 18 on hand to wear the bibs on which John wrote personalized poems, jabberwocky-style, for each guest . . . Dinner was accomplished uniquely by assigning the guests duties in the kitchen & for those who had never eaten a meal w/a turkey fork or a longhandled soup spoon, like Dorothy Williams & Nan Davison, the evening was sheer novelty. Ann Bailey daintily drank from a soup tureen & fifty cent gifts exchanged were equally mad—or sad—depending on one's sense of humor.

HERE for the fun, the Frank Shireys, Doug Williamses, Jim Davisons, Walter Pilchers & Bill Brunks . . . The more the madder & merrier, the Don Petersons, Charles Nickersons, Grace Boyd, Norm Baileys & naturally, the Ogdens'. John Ogden's gift to Walter Pilcher a "bilge-bailer" (turkey baster). The better to bail bilge from Walter's new boat!

ENGAGED . . . Sue Murray & George Harrison . . . who should do swimmingly well as Mr. & Mrs. They're both aqua champs!!

MEMBERS & GUESTS of Linden Juniors, CHEB, sipped their tea, sniffed special scents & watched a parade of personal wardrobe fashions promenade the pretty gardens of the Norman Parker home recently . . . The gloomy morning giving way to brilliant sunshine.

Over 125 guests finding outdoor seats in the Fairy-Tale setting of the rose-covered cottage on Rose Lane. The original house built by deLaveagea, Eva Parker ingeniously adding to the house over the years w/an ingenious touch—stained glass windows, carved doors, white victorian wicker & ante-bellum iron fences.

THE TEA TABLES covered w/antique white cotton bedspreads refurbished w/fringe . . . The handsome heirloom silver service, engraved early 1900, from the family of member Helen Russell's husband . . . Em Randall, Kay Arends carrying their coffee & tea sandwiches to a resting place . . . Both Mrs. Boyens, Rosita & her mother-in-law (Mrs. Louise) together . . . A tiny mink collar on the beige suit of Sylvia Cox, next to her Norma Betz in a pert red straw, navy & white checks, she & Bee (Clarence Betz) followed the horsey crowd down for the Monterey Trials in May . . .

The models dressing in Eva's doll-house bedroom, tripping down the staircase & outside through the patio & gardens . . . Many modeling their own clothes—from their own personal wardrobes . . . like blonde Helen Moore in pink & white checked gingham w/a peek-a-BoPeep inset of white eyelet embroidery . . . Barbara Graber in her OWN Nettie Rosenstein of ripple rose chiffon w/a dramatic sweep of two-toned stole . . . Barbara also showing Eva Parker's Black & White Ball dress a white satin Empire gown beaded in jet.

I've got a secret . . .

ORIGINAL & UNUSUAL the fashions, ditto the perfumes being matched to the dresses . . . like one called "Eve's Secret" w/which saucy Eva Parker stopped the show (to gales of girlish giggles) when she revealed under a Spanish red lace frock, pert pantaloons of black ruffled in red lace! (Some secret!)

From the tiny bedroom balcony overlooking the garden, Charlotte Chapple carried the commentary as well as a humorous referral to feeling like "Romeo & Juliet" . . . Ethel Spittler with friends . . . Hostesses Esther Dornsife & Elaine Bryant passing cookies . . . Many compliments for Ramona Smith, both in her Mother-of-the-Bride dress of beige chiffon as well as a sleek & beautiful burgundy red Ceil Chapman original that Shhhhhhh! belongs to her dghtr. Julie Ann . . .

FASHIONS on the flagstone terrace . . . Mel Johnson in black french lace over nude satin, a pleated choir-boy collar very chic . . . Chris Lang looking like a Gainsborough lady in a tea gown of ivory satin & imported net, a lilac rose tucked at the waist, the gown an original design by the hostess.

A HOLIDAY in Mexico for the Parkers brought out Eva in a big floppy straw hat & matching bag decorated w/brilliant poinsettras, "Bachelor Bait," the special scent to match the American-Beauty-sashed black lace over white satin, another show-stopper modeled by Diane Threlfall . . . ditto Petey Gliozzio's white-tiered organdy skirt topped in decollete black.

Thelma Harney (her passion is HATS!) there w/her daughter Bobbie Waters of Lafayette . . . Everyone agreeing the house, garden & glad-rags a sight for bored eyes, the perfumes a novel idea for noses . . .

TENNIS, anyone? Judy Hopkins, who has been teaching tennis this spring to local youngsters, will go on a Tennis Tour this summer w/her brother Gerry . . . Parents Faye & Hoppy Hopkins will meet their offspring at the end of the tour & vacation from that point . . . Laurie Abbes & Floyd Svensson took the championship in the Orinda Tennis Club's Mystery-mixed doubles over Charles Ivy & Bobby Gillis . . . & between Laurie & Floyd, there will be plenty of mixed-doubles champs coming up in their own families . . . Laurie is the mother of SIX girls, Floyd the father of FOUR plus one son!

RITA BOWERSOX, our Mums & Yums lady who, besides being a gourmet-cook, a mum-fancier, an author & lecturer, finally got around to paint brush & palette 3 yrs. ago after a visit to the SF studio of Thomas Leighton. Rita, who calls herself an "accidental" painter (the only painting she did before was the b a t h r o o m!) will have her oils on exhibit at the Orinda Library through June. And they are NO accident! They're THAT good & we only wonder what other fields she'll conquer, this busy gal (& Grandmother!) who does EVERYTHING well!

Pet, Flower Show Is 'Howling' Success

To say that Canyon School's 10th annual pet show, held on Wednesday of last week was a "howling" success would not be proper. In fact it was most successful in a very quiet and orderly way despite the many cats, dogs and wide variety of pets entered.

The annual flower show put on in conjunction with the pet show by the primary-room children, this year featured flower arrangements. Entries making ingenious use of local growth, were voted on by the "little room."

ACTING as judge, Mrs. Doris Foley, Supervisor of County Elementary Education, handed out first prize to Tommy Drake for a well-balanced composition in which he used wild cucumbers, mock orange blossoms and rocks.

Robin Day received second prize for her arrangement of drift wood, red geraniums and ferns. An abalone shell displaying red and white geraniums, ferns and fox-tails brought Susie Cannon third prize. All pupils of the "little room" received consolation prizes from Mrs. Foley, a ticket good for a popsicle at Canyon Store.

JUDGES for the pet show were Robert Dymond, assistant naturalist of the Nature Area of Tilden Park and Dr. H. Frank Bradford, Director of Administrative Services for Contra Costa County School Supervisor Office.

The judges awarded the grand prize to Mike Bradley for three pet gopher snakes which he wore around his neck. Largest pet was Monte, a pinto horse, entered by Grant Engle, chairman of the show. Gale Williams won a blue ribbon for her burro and ribbon for funniest entry went to Judy Ellison for her goat.

TWO SPECIAL ribbons were won by Egl Batchelor, for most unusual entry, a scorpion, and special entry, "Mat the Rat," a realistic root. There were prizes for large dogs and little dogs, big cats and tiny bottle-fed kittens.

Other entries (all won first, second or participating ribbons) included parakeets, pigeons, a rooster and a duck, tropical fish, a baby boa constrictor, a lizard and a mouse as well as several unpettable pets in the insect class.

Don't forget you can leap to the Olympics at Lombardy's party on Saturday night . . . Cocktails & dancing & taxi-service TO the Hugh MacIntyres from Orinda Country Club! (Say, Jean Downs . . . we have another June 2nd soulmate—Gertrude Cook & Happy B'day to YOU!)

Off to The Showers, Men, But Watch the Dollars!

It's nice to be clean, and hardly anybody would argue that a shower now and then is good for the soul as well as being an absolute social necessity.

Unfortunately, paying taxes seems to be an equal social necessity.

Now, what do taxes and showers have in common?

Drummond J. McCunn, superintendent of the Contra Costa Junior College District, has presented two alternative preliminary budget figures to the board of governors.

One of these figures . . . the lower one . . . would retain the present tax rate and the other would require a five-cent tax hike.

NOW, WHAT HAS all this to do with showers? Well, Dr. McCunn has recommended the higher figure on the basis that the money will be used for construction of a new men's shower and locker rooms at Diablo Valley College and a new women's shower and locker room at Contra Costa College.

We have nothing against showers. Certainly nothing against showers which are used by active young people who, very likely, have been engaging in gymnastics.

But we do have something against climbing tax rates.

The youngsters must be taking some kind of showers now. They probably need new facilities, but then we all need lots of things we can't afford.

The income of the college district has increased with the increase in assessed valuation. The same tax rate, which brought in only $4,131,903 during the present fiscal year, will bring in $4,542,-274 during the next year.

THUS, EVEN IF the tax isn't raised, the district will be getting more money.

Give us a break, fellows! Please, don't be greedy. Use that extra $400,000 or so and postpone the construction of showers . . . perhaps until next year.

Think of the poor taxpayer, who will be unable to enjoy a shower all next year thinking about this increase in his bill.

A Thumb on the Scales...? Not in this County!

It's nice to have someone watching out for you.

Not the usual policeman, or fireman, who protect us from danger 24 hours a day, but another friend.

This one is Arthur Seeley, the County Sealer. One of Mr. Seeley's jobs is to run the county office of weights and measures.

In short, when you order a pound of hamburger, you want to get a pound of hamburger. Seeley helps see that you do.

This is one of those jobs that doesn't sound like it means much. But Seeley takes it seriously. So seriously, in fact, that he has started a campaign against short-weight measure and short-measure packaging.

THIS CAMPAIGN was so successful that the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors has authorized the hiring of a supervising weights and measure inspector.

This is what it means to you. In the past four months inspectors have tested 231,150 packages of all types and have taken 23,655 packages off sale. Of these, 19,450 contained less than their labels said they did.

This is just one county program which is operating to save you money. In short, it guarantees that you will get your money's worth when you shop in Contra Costa County.

The board also stated the savings to us will more than pay the salary of the new inspector.

So, congratulations to Mr. Seeley.

Congratulations should also go to County Clerk Walter Paasch who is now microfilming our public documents. This will represent a tremendous savings in storage space and cabinets alone. It really should have been done a long, long time ago.

A $34,000 Cleanup Job...

Do you have any trouble keeping your house clean?

Chances are you give it a good vacuuming at least once a week, and probably more. This doesn't take into account the time you spend just picking things up, dusting, and doing the regular chores.

Well, how would you like to put out $34,000 to clean up your place for one month . . . and know that you'd have to start all over again just as soon as you finished?

Ridiculous? That is the estimated cost of cleaning up the highways in our county — ONCE — and it would take 30 days to do it.

THIS, MIND YOU, all because there is such a peculiar beast as the litterbug around.

It would seem that people would want to keep their city, their community and their county as well as they keep their homes. And maybe they do—maybe the litterbugs live amongst trash and debris.

But simple pride of community and respect for others should be sufficient for most people. For those who have no pride, or are careless, there are other measures of course. In 1955 the state legislature passed a "litterbug" law enabling any peace officer to issue a citation for violation of the statute. This would allow you to get a "ticket" for as much as $50 for a first offense and a $100 fine or 10 days in jail for the second offense.

BEFORE THIS LAW was passed only the California Highway Patrol could issue such a citation.

Obviously our highways are not going to be swept spic and span by the county every 30 days at a cost of $34,000. It would be impossible. So if we want to live in a clean community—one that has already been made beautiful by nature—it will be up to us.

Don't be a litterbug!

The Staff Corner

Stars in Your Eyes?

By NORMAN COLBY

Our American Flag flies faithfully over local school yards and official buildings, but we become so accustomed to seeing it there that the "stars and stripes" are hardly noticed.

I am sure that some Contra Costans now and then display their country's flag outside their home. But the "then" must be more frequent than the "now" for I can't remember the last time I saw the 48 (or 50) stars draped proudly from a local home.

Next Tuesday is Flag Day, and I'll look around some more.

I'M BETTING THAT the few people who display the flag will be elderly people. They are more likely to remember the years when the flag was as important a symbol as the Cadillac car.

People don't seem to take Flag Day very seriously. It was established only 44 years ago, and it doesn't even rate as an official national holiday, anyway.

So why bother? — especially when there are other official national holidays when the flag should also be displayed. The trouble is, I rarely see the flag in our residential areas even on those days.

It's not that people are not observing Memorial Day, Independence Day or any of the other 16 national holidays—or the state holidays. They are. The homes are empty and the parks and liquor stores are full of happy people. Celebrating something.

DID YOU KNOW there was a fellow, a retired sea captain, who could not bring himself to destroy his "Old Glory", although he lived throughout the bloody Civil War in the deep South—Nashville, Tenn. He sewed it into a bed quilt.

Must have been an odd type of guy to let a mere flag mean so much.

It is interesting to note that in 1782 the State Department said in the Flag, the red stands for hardiness and courage, white a symbol of purity and innocence and blue for vigilance, perseverance and justice.

GEORGE Washington had his own ideas on this, and white to him stood for liberty.

The knowing person might say both the Flag and its symbolisms are (15 years after World War II) a little out of style.

Are you flying the Flag of your country on Tuesday?

The proud young warriors...

Letters to The Editor

PG&E RATES

Dear Editor:

Your editorial concerning recent PG&E request for increased rates is both timely and provocative. Certainly the PUC should evaluate carefully evidence in support of application.

However, you are guilty, I feel, of "editorial license."

Isn't the utility guaranteed a six per cent return on "investment" rather than on the dollars it spends, i.e.: expenses?

YOU ALSO SUGGEST increased volume sales should offset some of the increased costs. Your argument is valid insofar as general office administration costs are concerned, but PG&E has rather limited control over the cost of their product . . . natural gas. (By the way, I notice automobile price tags reflect no lower price because today's volume might be twice that of 1949.)

True, volume production reduces cost per unit, but suggest that the cost per cubic foot of gas today has been adjusted for increased volume. Remember, the utility buys natural gas from El Paso Natural Gas, just as we buy gas from PG&E.

The basic reason the PUC should critically evaluate this application is, again, that "firm" demand customers (i.e.: homeowners, apartment houses, etc.) are being forced to "bear the brunt" of the increase, while the large "interruptible" industrial customers do not receive the same percentage increase!

I SAY "AGAIN" because firm customers are paying the freight for the large interruptible customers. Last August PG&E received PUC approval to increase gas rates, firm demand customers increasing more than the industrial interruptible accounts. However, the PUC in rendering the decision, cautioned it was not in accord wholly with this approach.

Your editorial should have been on this theme, as PG&E are entitled to recover the increased cost of natural gas from their supplier, El Paso Natural Gas Co., but equitably distributed between the firm and interruptible customers.

V. C. CULLINANE

P.S. The reason for limited increase in industrial use is because of competitive conditions of natural gas vs. fuel oil —the natural gas cost is getting higher than the cost of fuel oil. Example: gas delivered to PG&E at Antioch on the new pipeline from Canada is going to cost PG&E 45 cents per 1000 cubic feet before distribution costs.

This compares to the present cost from El Paso about 29 cents per 1000 cubic feet.

We at Standard Oil are competing with natural gas and have converted Contra Costa accounts—Fibreboard, Antioch, and C&H Sugar from natural gas to fuel oil due in part to past increases in cost of gas.

Rueful Reflections on Art Show Selections!!

By MARIE MONAHAN

WHENEVER we attend one of those arty art shows — you know the kind, where the smarty set goes — we are reminded of the story of "The Emperor's New Clothes . . . "

Joining the shapeless chignons, sandals & beards, we mill around mystified observing the weird kind of paintings that are chosen for exhibit, painted by free-form souls who inhibit this world with their notions of temper-tantrum frustrated sick-sick & tired emotions . . . &

WE all nod our heads & together opine —
"His media is MARvelous!" — "Her colors' divine!"

But we see nothing, feel nothing at all . . . except that the painter must have been in a brawl . . . or is possessed of an abnormal amount of sheer gall.

So like the townspeople complimented the King — who, of course you remember, wasn't wearing a THING — the fashionables who flock to the shows weakly agree — "That picture has merit & a certain degree of" — well, WHAT is uncertain for no one can see (& if you do see it, will you kindly tell ME?)

How can one feel anything but utter befuddlement for big blobs & gobs of gooey oil puddlement?

BUT . . . along with the rest of the faddists & purists, the patrons of art, the rich matrons & jurists, I play a good game & put on an act. I adjust my horn rims & I muster my tact . . .

The dilettante's chatter, a vogueish patter runs to some painter's "emotional tensity" — (when all one imagines is his extreme mental density!) "Color excellent," "spacial relationships," "lines of force," "depths of forms" & the such . . . horizonals & White-on-White & suddenly it's too much!

The "movements" do not move me, the "abstracts" merely when paintings are titled "Untitled," "Unborn" . . . behoove me & all of a sudden my senses rebel . . . I think it's all futile & it looks just like, Well! The very devil, sad & forlorn,

(If the person had the nerve to sign it, the least he could do, My Dear, is NAME it!)

LET the museums choose all the art that they wish, Salvadore Dali is just not my dish, nor cubists, non-objectives or things blah, blank & unreal —

Give me a record of time, a thing I can feel —
Something with Van Gogh's, Manet's or Renoir's appeal . . .
I'll settle for still lifes of fruit, wine & roses . . . Who's MY favorite painter?
Don't you KNOW?
Grandma Moses!

Letters to The Editor

BAD TASTE

Dear Editor:

As a person dedicated to peaceful co-existence between nations holding differing political ideas, I was shocked beyond measure by the quarter-page advertisement placed in The Sun Shopping News and then the Friday edition of your Sun paper by Mr. N. P. Reckas of Hi Fashion Fabrics "of Albany and Lafayette.

I was introduced to your highly interesting newspaper during your campaign to help unfortunate children in some commendable undertaking. I was happy to subscribe. However I now register disapproval of a policy which accepts such statements made by Mr. Reckas in this open letter.

The "letter" appeared again in the Friday issue and I suspect cost Mr. Reckas a pretty penny.

At a time like the present we should all be doubling our efforts to accept our portion of blame in the set-back at the Summit Conference, and to renew, and vitalize our efforts to avoid the unthinkable catastrophy of nuclear war!

I wonder just how motivated Mr. Reckas has been in helping create an atmosphere of genuine give and take before the conference took place?

I SEEM to detect an air of jubilation in the words of the ad—or letter. As though he had predicted the outcome and had enjoyed the development of his theme with its facetious wording.

I sincerely hope you will print my letter, in reply, soon, and while I do not share any such silly hope with Mr. Reckas, that it will be read in Moscow, I do know a number of local readers who will agree.

Here Is a New Approach To a Costly Problem

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

How much money do you contribute each year to help the needy in this county and the country?

I am not talking about your voluntary contributions to the United Crusade.

I am talking about the hundreds of dollars in taxes you pay.

Your federal government spends millions upon millions annually to help needy men, women and children. Your state and country governments spend additional millions on this welfare program.

What is your share?

How much do you contribute annually for welfare? I do not know. I do know that a large hunk of your county taxes is allocated to relief recipients and the administration of the program. Certainly many dollars of your state and federal taxes (direct and hidden) also go in this direction.

The entire welfare program is becoming an increasing problem in this county—and throughout the nation. Most people readily recognize that this is a necessary program. The problem is how to keep the cost down, eliminate abuses and yet finance that which is worthwhile.

What is the answer? Well, this is a tough one. Grand juries, taxpayers' associations, efficiency organizations, welfare groups, government officials — all have been studying this for years.

Through the mail . . .

Today, however, I would like to offer a different approach to the problem, based on a letter sent by Arthur Wagstaff. He writes:

"Is it possible that through the editorial columns of your paper, an idea such as is described in the attached clipping (from the Wall Street Journal), might make an impression upon the authorities in Martinez?

"If the relief load could somehow be lightened, I rather think you would earn the eternal gratitude of hosts of taxpayers in Contra Costa County."

And now the idea

Thank you, Mr. Wagstaff. Here is the article:

HILLSBORO, Ore.—Several Oregon counties are updating an old idea, the Works Progress Administration work relief plan of the depressed 1930's.

Instead of just collecting money, groceries or fuel, welfare recipients in a growing number of counties hereabouts now are often required to work for their aid.

As a result of the program, the counties are getting some work for their money. The morale of most welfare recipients seems to have improved. And, in some cases, chronic loafers are being cut from the welfare rolls.

Costs did go down:

I always felt some folks on welfare were not applying themselves to finding jobs," declares Washington County Commissioner Clayton Nyberg here in the county seat town of Hillsboro. "Now for the first time in my three years as a commissioner, our county welfare costs are headed down."

Oregon's state welfare costs, like those of many other states, have been climbing in recent years. The record $92 million state welfare budget in the present biennium is nearly double the level of a decade ago.

Oregon's work relief plan often is handling jobs the counties otherwise could not afford to have done at all. An Association of Oregon Counties spokesman says, "At first, everyone thought of W.P.A. shovel-leaning. Now that idea is changing."

What do they do?

So far, over 200 welfare recipients have been put to work, mainly clearing fast-growing brush alongside county highways. Others have filled in as part-time janitors and worked on recreation areas.

There's even talk of employing women for cemetery cleanup in one county. Until now, the program has been limited to physically able men.

"Our welfare workers did at least comparable, if not better, jobs than our regular county road crews," claims Earl Loewen, administrator of the Polk County Public Welfare Commission, which pioneered the Oregon program last January.

What are the details?

Here's how the program operates:

County welfare agencies go over their rolls, picking out people who are able to work. The able-bodied men on the county rolls either have used up their eligibility for unemployment compensation or were never eligible to receive it.

If there's any doubt about an individual's ability to work, a physical examination is called for. The names are then given to other county officials—the head of the road department, for example—who notify the individuals when they should report for work.

If the person fails to report for wark, a welfare worker tries to find out why. If there's no good reason, welfare payments may be cut off.

From 20% to 35% of the persons certified as physically and otherwise able for work relief don't show up for assignments.

How many don't show?

Of 21 persons failing to report in one county, two proved to be disabled, one was in jail, one had deserted his family and disappeared and one flatly refused to work.

"If I'm going to have to work, I don't want the money," he told a welfare case worker. This man was dropped from the welfare rolls.

What of the others who didn't show up?

Some apparently found private jobs and others moved to neighboring counties that didn't have work programs yet. To slow down this type of migration, the state or county welfare commission can declare the applicant ineligible for welfare payments in another county for 30 days or possible longer.

End of story.

Well, what do you think?

Pandora Has New Officers

Mrs. Lew Doty was installed as president of Pandora Chapter of Children's Home Society at a recent luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Robeson E. Smith on Estates Drive, Orinda.

Mrs. Ridgley Greathouse, past president and present parliamentarian, was the installing officer. Other officers are the Mesdames Jack Van Gelder, vice president; David Seabury, recording secretary; and Robeson Smith, treasurer.

Glacier Parties Aid John Muir

Members of the Glacier Auxiliary of John Muir Hospital recently completed a month of individual parties designed to benefit the hospital.

Although this particular group has as its chief interest the formation and participation in a volunteer in-service group, upon the completion of the hospital, its members feel that their opportunity to offer help of a financial nature in the interim was important.

Parakeets Install New Officers

New officers of the Parakeets, junior auxiliary sponsored by the Mary Doyle Unit, Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, are Deedy May, president; Judy Gould, vice - president; Karen Lucas, secretary; Kathy Brizee, corresponding secretary; Judy Davis, treasurer; Alan Hartman, outgoing president, conducted the installation on May 31 at the Danville Women's Club.

The installation dinner was served to the senior and junior Parakeets by the Mary Doyle Unit members who act as their advisors. They are Mesdames George Riser of Alamo; Allison Hartman, Thomas Graham and Lloyd Davis, all of Danville. They were assisted by Mrs. Bruce Crowley of Danille. Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Hartman are retiring as adisors. They will be succeeded by Mrs. Paul Ditzler, Alamo, who will help Mrs. Riser and Mrs. Davis in training the girls in community service.

All interested sophomore girls from San Ramon High School were invited for dessert on May 31. Sixty-eight sophomore girls attended and heard the work of the Parakeets explained by Mrs. Emmett Evans, Danville, volunteer service chairman of the Mary Doyle Unit.

Each girl who wishes to join the organization will give 10 hours of volunteer service at the Therapy Center during the summer in order to qualify for membership. The service will consist of reception work, typing, or playground supervision of children who are at the Center for therapy treatments or who are the children of adult patients. The playground equipment has been furnished by the five junior units in the county. This year's group of Parakeets earned and contributed $200.

A RECEPTION for justwed Mr. and Mrs. John C. Abrahamsen was held at the Walnut Creek home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. R. C. Huntoon following their marriage May 7 in Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church. The bride is the former Trudy Meier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Meier.

Trudy Meier Wed to J. C. Abrahamson

Radiant in white satin and lace, Trudy Meier became the bride of John C. Abrahamsen in the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church on May 7. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Reverend Richard Chiolis.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Max Meier, and attended by Mrs. Bill Nunn, her sister, as matron of honor with Mrs. Jerry Glenn as bridesmaid.

Tom McMurray served as the groom's best man with Gary Thomson, Richard Meier and Dennis Porter as ushers.

The bride's attendants wore yellow polished cotton gowns with fitted bodices and full skirts. They carried daisy bouquets and wore white daisy headpieces.

Mrs. Max Meier wore a gown of green satin and lace with a corsage of brown cymbidium orchids. The groom's mother chose pink satin and white lace for her son's wedding and wore a purple orchid.

Hadassah to Seat New Officers

The Orinda home of Mrs. Aaron Bojarsky, 1 Tappan Lane, will be the setting for the installation of officers of the Diablo Valley Chapter of Hadassah at 8 p.m. next Friday.

The installing officer will be Mrs. Paul Bernt of Berkeley, past regional vice president of Hadassah. Mrs. Bernt has acted in an advisory capacity for the formative years of the chapter.

Those who will take office in the fall are the Mesdames Isadore Perlman, president; Ervin Schwartz, first vice president in charge of program; Shalom Blaj, second vice president and fund raising coordinator; Jack Cronin, third vice president in charge of membership; Sid Kroff, corresponding secretary; Meyer Weiner, recording secretary; Hal Winters, financial secretary; George Seiger, treasurer; Al Arnold, auditor; and Alex Bavin, parliamentarian.

The League of Jewish Women of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center is presenting the chapter that evening with a reading of the play "A Majority of One" by Leonard Spigelgass.

Those participating will be the Mesdames Maury Bakon, Aaron Bojarsky, Harold Bloom, Morris Collen, Arthur Scharloch, and Don Sterne.

Chairman for the evening, Mrs. Jack Cronin, will be assisted by the Mesdames Shalom Blaj, Roger Cook, and Meyer Weiner.

Alamo Is Proud of Mrs. Huovinen

Keen Interest in Life Keeps This Lady Busy

By JEAN JERNIGAN

Alert Mrs. Don W. Huovinen of 1570 Ridgewood Road, Alamo, glows with an enthusiasm for living undimmed by the tensions and stresses of today's hectic world.

Mother of three, church deacon and community volunteer, Jane Huovinen still finds time to further her education. Calling herself a "perennial student" she is working toward's her elementary school teaching credential.

"I HAVE been attending Diablo Valley College for the past four years," she said with a laugh. "I try to take six units a year, attending night classes, and eventually I'll be through."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Huovinen are graduates of Acalanes High School. "I attended Mills College," she recalled, "and then started pre med studies at Highland School of Nursing. Illness interrupted my studies, so I got married instead. Now after 15 years and three children I'm finishing my education, but with a teaching career in mind rather than a medical one."

Jane and Don Huovinen met at Acalanes High School when she was still a student and he came back to visit his Alma Mater. He is a wage and salary analyst with Standard Oil, and the process of growing with the firm, the pair have lived in Lafayette, Coalinga, Fresno and in Alamo the past four years.

SINCE FIRST coming to Alamo, Mrs. Huovinen has been active with the Alamo Mothers' Club. The club serves the three Alamo schools, raising funds for the "extras" at school. "I feel that in working with the club I am helping all the children," she said, "rather than just a small group of which one of my own is a part."

Just completing one year's service as president of the club, Mrs. Huovinen has also served as its membership chairman, and always, "at least once a year" as chairman of one of the club's big events.

Next year she will chairman the ways and means committee of the San Ramon PTA, where her son, Don, 14, will be a sophomore. Her other children are Julie, 10, a fourth grade student at Stone Valley School, and Richard, 6, who will enter kindergarten at Stone Valley in September.

DESCRIBING her family as one "great for togetherness" Jane Huovinen said their pet pastime is fishing and camping, which they do in California and Arizona. "We've been taking the children camping and fishing with us since they were babies. I like deep sea fishing and my husband prefers trout fishing, so you know which we do most," she chuckled.

Danville Community Presbyterian Church plays an important role in the family's life, and both Jane and Don have taken an active part in church life. She taught Sunday school for three years, is now a deacon, and both Jane and Don have taken an active part in church life. She taught Sunday school for three years, is now a deacon, and both worked with the high school fellowship, taking the youngsters on picnics, hikes and fun outings.

Despite her busy days, Mrs. Huovinen finds time to be completely domestic. She enjoys cooking, particularly in experimenting with gourmet recipes Her family's favorites are desserts and sweets. "Once I took six hours making a special cake in the shape of a boat," she recalled.

ADEPT WITH a needle, thread and sewing machine, Mrs. Huovinen makes all her own clothes and those of her daughter, Julie. Having fun together at home, often means music in the Huovinen household.

"We are really surrounded with music most of the time," she said. "Everything from Bach to Bop goes . . . I play the piano, my my husband plays the cornet and our son plays the saxophone.

"If the sound of music isn't coming from the house, probably the sound of the baseball game is. We are all fanatical baseball fans. Don is very athletic and is interested in all sports. The rest of us have sort of absorbed his interests through osmosis," she concluded.

When the Huovinen's do slip away for an evening together without the children they enjoy attending the theatre or one of the movie greats, such as Ben Hur. Both like to play bridge. "I guess, Mrs. Huovinen said, "you would describe us as a typical suburban couple."

Luncheon Honors Two Tau Nu Officers

A garden setting served as a background for an Oriental luncheon honoring two members of Tau Nu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi who are moving from this area.

The patio and garden of Mrs. Charles Erickson 228 Castle Glen Road, Walnut Creek was decorated with Japanese lanterns, umbrellas and objets d'art. This theme was further carried out by the hostess, Mrs. Erickson, the Social Chairman, Mrs. A. M. Walker, Jr., her committee, Mesdames, John Evoniuk and Charles Berry who wore Japanese silk kimonos to enhance the setting.

The members honored were Mrs. James Cooley and Mrs. James Iverson. Mrs. Cooley and her Navy husband are being transferred to London, England for three years.

The Cooleys will leave this area around the first of July, stopping enroute with members of their families located in New Mexico, Mississippi and Tennessee, arriving in New York where they will sail on a Military Service Transport Ship around the middle of August.

Mrs. Cooley has been a member of Beta Sigma Phi for the past two years, joining the Alpho Delta Chapter in Albuquerque, New Mexico, then transferring to Tau Nu Chapter where she has held the office of corresponding secretary during this immediate past year.

Mrs. Iverson's husband is graduating from the University of California tomorrow from the School of Business Administration with a B.S. in accounting. He has attended the University on a Kiwanis scholarship and a scholarship from the Berkeley Campus Alumni.

His first assignment will be at Permanente, starting July 1. The Iversons have two sons, Robert Richard, 20 months and John Eric, seven months. They plan to make their home in the San Jose area.

Mrs. Iverson has been a member of Beta Sigma Phi for three and one half years, joining at the Newport Beach Chapter, Omicron Rho, transferring to Tau Nu almost three years ago. She has held the office of corresponding secretary and is the junior vice president. She also was a Diablo Area Council representative for one year.

College 'Lifetime' Cards Go to Four Area Students

Four area young people received lifetime student activities cards at the Diablo Valley College annual Awards Assembly, held last Friday on the campus.

They are Ann Hightower of Orinda, Stefanie van Ogtrop and Eric Johnson, both of Walnut Creek, and Becky Harris of Orinda.

Basis for their selection among 10 winners was outstanding contribution to the college, cooperation with fellow students and faculty and "humility."

THE AWARDS were presented by Mrs. Bess Whitcomb, speech director.

Said the press release: "These are really the big awards given at this time. They are kept confidential until the assembly, and always create a great deal of suspense during the preceding week.

Scholarship winners, most of whom were announced earlier, as listed alphabetically:

Jacqueline Chessum of Walnut Creek, $150 Contra Costa Branch of Music Teachers Association of California; Donald Johnson of Pleasant Hill, Chemical Rubber Company Chemistry Achievement Award; Paul Webster of Walnut Creek, $100 Kiwanis Club.

JOURNALISM Certificates of Merit went to area residents Carol Cornett of Walnut Creek, Robin Cooper of Lafayette, Edith Brady of Walnut Creek, Sue McFarland of Lafayette and Dexter Lewis of Orinda, all members of the Viking Reporter staff.

Paul Webster of Walnut Creek received an award from Basepoint, the campus literary magazine.

Associated Men's Students Awards went to cabinet members Bob Reed of Alamo, Bob Rusk of Walnut Creek and Jim Poulton of Lafayette.

Honorable mention in the forensics winners category went to John Kartozian and Ron Kruse, both of Walnut Creek.

THE NEW fall ADVC officers include the following: Barbara McMath of Walnut Creek, recording secretary; Sally Hunter of Pleasant Hill, corresponding secretary; Don McDonald of Lafayette, publicity; Nancy Hamilton of Walnut Creek, rallies; Bob Rusk of Walnut Creek, I.C.C.

Certificate of merit awards from Spring Student Council: Ann Hightower, recording secretary; Stefanie van Ogtrop, corresponding secretary; Jack Flanders of Walnut Creek, publicity; Becky Harris, social activities; John Kartozian, rallies; John Weber of Walnut Creek, I.C.C.

Norsecar winners: Robert Davis of Walnut Creek, social science; Gayle Center of Pleasant Hill, humanities; Michael Farmer of Walnut Creek, creative writing; Wil Parsons of Walnut Creek, biological science.

Grand Council Fire for Area Camp Fire Girls

Camp Fire Girls of Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Alamo and Danville held their annual Grand Council Fire last night at 7:30 at the outdoor theater of Pleasant Hill High School.

National and other awards were recognized at the ceremonial. Ranks of trail seeker, wood gatherer and fire maker were passed.

Pins for the highest rank of torch bearer were awarded for the first time in this area to the following girls who merited them: Laura Fogg, Linda Sue Grove, Susan Kroninger, Marilyn Millett and Cathy Short.

Three-year membership pins, needlework guild honors, Golden Jubilee national honors and fly-up certificates were presented.

Mrs. Albert C. Dippo was in charge.

Farm Bureau Women Seat New Officers

Contra Costa County Farm Bureau Women held their annual installation day and luncheon Wednesday at the Women's Club, 1224 Lincoln Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Paul Somerhalder of Knightsen, county chairman, conducted a short business meeting.

Mrs. Leon De Carli of Stockton, vice-chairman of San Joaquin County Farm Bureau Women and secretary of Farm Safety Council of her county, was the installing officer.

Officers are Mrs. J. C. Murphy of Brentwood, chairman; Mrs. Truman Crockett of Live Oak, vice-chairman; Mrs. Harry Hobbs of Knightsen, recording secretary; Mrs. Dante Littorno of El Cerrito, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Joe Silva of Danville, treasurer.

Betty Reynolds Is New President Of Dramateurs

The new officers, elected at the May meeting of the Dramateurs, to serve for the coming year, will be officially welcomed at the forthcoming meeting of the group, Monday night at 8 o'clock, at the Lafayette Town Hall.

Betty Reynolds, who has been a member of the Dramateurs for many years and has served as both actress and production crew member, is the newly elected president.

Rich Whipple will become vice-president, John Whitcombe, treasurer, and Helen Blankenburg, secretary.

The Sunday night adult class under the director, Carl Rasmussen, has begun and the summer classes for children and teenagers is forming. For information on either group, call Alice Swenning at LA 5-9722, or Tish Winkworth at CL 4-5517.

"Death of a Salesman" by Arthur Miller is the next production of the Dramateurs and will open at the Town Hall on Friday, June 24. It will then play on three more successive weekends. For ticket information, call Wirtabel Harris, CL 4-2460.

Your Garden

Gardeners Should Reap Big Rewards This Month

In June, gardeners reap the rewards of their efforts. All of the plants seem to be saying "thanks" for your care: Feeding, watering, cultivating, pruning, mulching and spraying. A little effort has paid large dividends.

The California Association of Nurserymen suggests that you plan ahead NOW so that after the glorious June blooms have gone, the garden won't have a summer let-down.

ONE WAY to prevent this is to make space for plants that will give color into fall. Toward the end of this month, those spring bulbs can come out — provided their foliage has turned brownish-yellow.

This will allow room to plant such sun-loving summer bloomers as: Marigolds, snapdragons, dahlias, petunias and zinnias. These and many more bedding plants are available in flats at C.A.N. nurseries. And don't neglect the edges of the garden. The many hues of alyssum, creeping zinnia and dwarf marigolds make more colorful borders which will thrive in full sun.

Another simple way to quickly inject summer color is to make a choice from the wide assortment of perennials abloom in containers at your C.A.N. nursery. (This also takes the guesswork out of buying.)

FOR GAY splashes of yellow and white—don't eat the daisies, plant them! Marguerites established in gallon cans will flourish through the hot months. And they come in a luscious new shade of pink. Two other perennials that are equally easy to grow in the sun are pelargoniums and geraniums. Their many varieties come in a dazzling array of colors.

Probably the most exotic of summer flowers are tuberous begonias. The vigorous, healthy plants growing in containers at C.A.N. nurseries will offer spectacular blooms come summer.

June offers a challenge for gardeners—to see if they can equal the splendor of the garden's overall effect in later months.

THERE'S NOTHING LIKE a lovely tree shaded garden to take the edge off those sweltering summer days. The Robert F. Donovans of Alamo are well aware of this and have done this beautiful job of landscaping their attractive home.
—Sun photo by Bob Rush.

Sprinkling Roses From Overhead Can Control Pests

Gardeners should check the following items this week:

Overhead sprinkling of roses, contrary to popular opinion, is beneficial in controlling many pests.

June starts the period to put particular emphasis on deep-watering of lawns. Ample water spaced less frequently will do more to keep your grass green and vigorous than shallow daily waterings.

Grow your own corsages! Glamorous gardenias are available in containers at C.A.N. nurseries. Their exquisite white blossoms exuding sweet fragrance will add to the delight of a summer's eve.

For a longer harvest in the vegetable garden, make new sowing of carrots, radishes, green onions, beets, beans, squash and cucumbers.

For a brilliant display of color and ease of growth in full sun—geraniums and pelargoniums are hard to beat.

Study Form For a Formal Garden Plan

If your taste runs to "form-al" —then by all means plan a formal garden. It offers no limitations other than requiring form to be paramount. A formal garden is essentially a composition in geometric lines—squares, oblong, circles, or parts of them. Contrary to popular opinion, it needn't be large or elaborate.

Matter of fact, the California Association of Nurserymen advises the home gardener to keep the basic design simple. It should have one focal point of interest. This might be an Italian wrought iron bench, a pool, arbor, shrine, sun-dial, or perhaps a bird bath. Whatever, this dominating feature becomes the axis for the rest of the layout: Paths, lawn, flower beds, shrubs, etc. Don't try for a mosaic pattern or the symmetrical lines will be lost.

FOUNDATION plantings with an aristocratic, trim look belong in the formal garden. Indispensable for luxuriant hedges or background are boxwood and Californian privet. These hardy evergreen shrubs can be sheared to desired shapes. English Boxwood grows 15 to 20 feet tall with an equal spread. Dwarf boxwood makes interesting low border lines along beds or paths. In California's hot spots, partial shade is advisable. To obtain a good hedge it is necessary to have a thoroughly well-prepared soil, to set the plants close together, and to clip at least twice a year.

Among the flowering shrubs which lend themselves to formal planting are: Roses, azaleas, camellia, gardenia, magnolia grandiflora and rhododendron. A few of the many trees with compact geometric shapes which enhance the formal landscape are: Juniper, poplars, Italian cypress and fir. Flowering shrubs and dwarf trees in containers offer attractive relief on a terrace or patio. The containers, as well as outdoor furniture, should avoid a rustic look.

BULBS AND bedding plants which fit into the formal scheme are a matter of personal pereference. The way they differ from informal flower beds is in layout. Formal beds have a precise pattern. There is nothing haphazard in the colors or form. Neither are there limits to variety if it fits the design. Once you've made your choices, a CAN nurseryman can help you with the plants' growth habits, care and culture.

So if you like formal garden—form it!

YOU NEVER HAD IT SO SOFT!

We're talking, of course, about the soft, soft water that your water system (you know . . . "East Bay MUD") brings down from the Sierras.

But let's talk about hard water. Hard water doesn't lather much. Doesn't wash too well. Leaves rings around bathtubs. Keeps your hair from rinsing really clean. And so on.

This is because hard water contains an excess of minerals. The amount is measured in "parts per million." The more parts, the harder the water. You can have as much as 125 parts and still call your water "soft." Your "East Bay MUD" water? Only 20 parts!

Your soft water saves you money, too. Because it takes less soap to wash in soft water. You use less coffee per pot. Baby gets a better shampoo. Et cetera. Now aren't you glad you have it so soft?

Booklets on water? But of course!

Real Estate Viewpoints

June Is Here, and Still The Prices Are Rising...

By BILL HAYWARD

HERE IT IS JUNE ALREADY . . . and prices still climb . . . it's a funny thing but Real Estate always goes up . . . not quite like the stock market that pops up and down all over the place.

Let's take an example some 10 years ago when you could still buy an acre of land for $2500 in some places in the county.

One acre for $2500 figures out at about a little less than 6 cents per square foot . . . in fact there was a time not so long ago that acres were selling for around $1500—in Alamo Oaks east of Alamo . . . which would be less than 4 cents per sq. ft.

TODAY A CHOICE acre in Orinda could run from $8500 to $10,000—or more for that matter . . . by the sq. ft. over 20 to 25 cents . . . still not too bad, really.

Or for example take a compact subdivision lot of 70 x 100 . . . 7000 sq. ft. . . . today this lot would run about $4500—finished and ready to hold a house . . . or almost 65 cents per square foot . . . or going UP!

Take a downtown business lot in Walnut Creek for another example with about 50 feet of frontage and a depth of about 140 feet, or about 7000 sq. ft. . . . price will fall somewhere in the neighborhood of $5 per sq. ft.

My friend . . . it is very difficult to say just how high these prices will soar in the future . . . but . . . for sure they will soar to new heights . . . and sooner than you think . . . here it is 5/12ths of 1960 is gone, never to return . . . disappeared and forever kapoot. . . . and yet the land stays and stays and stays . . . always ready to secure loans, hold buildings and to be a mainstay of the American way of life in these here United States.

And listen to this! . . . In our newest 50th State . . . Hawaii . . . DIRT PRICES HAVE GONE INTO ORBIT . . . I am told by my Island contacts that . . . Waikiki Beach area property . . . even land within two to three blocks of the beach used to sell back in 1955 for around $2.50 per square foot . . . this would be land for Apartments or Hotel buildings . . . TODAY . . . since statehood and the incumbent boom . . . Kaiser and Jet flights . . . the same type of land what is left . . . now goes for $40 per sq. ft. or over $1,600,000 per acre . . .if you can believe it . . . and it will go much higher.

EVEN THE RURAL land 15 miles over the Island of Oahu in the suburbs used to go for $1200 per acre back in 1950 now has ZOOMED to $20,000 per acre for residential use. Where will it stop? . . . it won't . . . ever . . . you should own some and get that GOOD . . .GOOD feeling.

Art Group's Spring Exhibit Draws 2500

The Diablo Art Association was host to 2500 bay-area residents during its Spring Art Exhibit held in the Pittsburg Cultural Arts Theatre, over the Memorial Day week-end.

Among those who viewed the exhibit were Enrique Jorda, conductor of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, and Benny Buffano, world famous sculptor, whose statue of a California Bear will soon be delivered to Pittsburg.

Buffano commented favorably on the quality of the show, and expressed special interest in the ceramic display.

Sunday afternoon the D.A.A. held a meet-the-artist reception. James Lawson of Alamo, association president, awarded the prizes.

Fine arts: first award ($50) went to Horace Lombardo, Pittsburg for his watercolor "The Toilers".

Second prize, $30, went to Jack Laycox, Walnut Creek, for a watercolor.

First honorable mention, Mrs. Ruth Hussey, Danville, portrait; second honorable mention, Rolfe Williams, Walnut Creek, oil landscape.

This and the allied arts portion of the exhibit was judged by popular vote.

Allied Arts: first award ($20) was won by Mrs. Norma Martinetti, Pittsburg, mosaic; first honorable mention, Mrs. Virginia Bollaert, Alamo, sculpture; and second honorable mention Paul Burkholm, Pittsburg, embossed copper.

American Legion Baseball Moves into the Spotlight

PITCHING IS probably the greatest asset of the Lafayette American Legion team, which opened its season Saturday, along with all of the other teams in the league. Head coach Richard "Red" Jones (right) checks the muscle on the throwing arm of Tom Strain as, from left to right, assistant coach Jerry Coakley, and hurlers John Paul Jones, Brian Allen and Denny Toll look on. Toll and Strain formed the bulwark of the Acalanes Dons' title-winning mound staff this past season.

Orinda, Walnut Creek Get Splits; Lafayette Loses 2

Last weekend found the ninth district Junior Legion baseball teams swinging into action as clubs played games on Saturday and Sunday.

Martinez wound up with a pair of wins to top the eastern division while El Sobrante did likewise in the western division to head the standings.

Eastern league Saturday play found Walnut Creek posting 16 hits to rack up Orinda, 21-2, with the Orinda nine getting but two hits off the slants of Bill Remy. The losers had 11 errors to the winners' two.

BIG INNINGS for the Walnut Creek post were the sixth and seventh frames when they collected five runs in each and then posted eight in the final ninth inning. Single runs in the third, fourth, and fifth rounded out the Walnut Creek score, while Orinda got one in the fourth and one in the eighth.

Mike Breuleaux had a home run and a single, Bill O'Toole tripled and singled, Rene Brandol collected a pair of doubles and a single while Bill Remy and Harold Stephenson each had two singles to pace the runners' attack.

Batteries: Walnut Creek—Remy and Stephenson; Orinda — Thaman, Tonascia (5), Peet (7), Williams (8), Peter (9) and Tobias.

LAFAYETTE, playing at Rodeo, lost, 5-3, in an abbreviated seven-inning game. Lafayette led in the opening frame when John Jones hit a home run, but the lead was short-lived as Rodeo came back with three in the bottom of the inning and added two more in the third while Lafayette could manage but one in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Rodeo outhit Lafayette 8-7 and had one error to losers' three.

Batteries: Lafayette — Strain and Felix, Kosach (4); Rodeo—Jennings, Ross (7) and Martin.

In the other Saturday games San Pablo posted 15 hits to score nine runs and committed three errors to win over Rodeo, which collected five runs on two hits while making four errors.

Batteries: San Pablo—Reynolds and Greenwood; Rodeo—Ross (9) and Cros, Martin (8).

IN SUNDAY'S games Martinez edged Walnut Creek, 4-3, in a game that went 10 innings before the issue was decided. Catcher Tom Quontamatteo homered over the Walnut Creek center field fence to break up the ball game. Walnut Creek outhit the visitors 7-6 while each club had three errors.

Batteries: Martinez — Rooney, Martellini (9) and Quontamatteo; Walnut Creek — Just, Oxley (7) and Stephenson.

In Sunday's play Jim Tonascia was in top form as he hauled the Orinda nine to a 4-0 win over Lafayette while giving up but two hits and striking out 12. Orinda committed the game's only error.

The two clubs played a scoreless six innings with Orinda's Bob Hilger clouting a homer to deep left in the seventh to break the ice. Orinda added one more in the frame and a pair in the eighth to chalk up the win.

Batteries: Lafayette—Toll, Allen (3) and Kosach; Orinda—Tonascia and Tobias.

Martinez and Concord played a game under the Martinez lights last Friday night which the Martinez team won, 9-5.

IN WESTERN division play on Saturday, Richmond dropped North Richmond, 15-1, while El Sobrante trimmed El Cerrito, 5-1. On Sunday El Cerrito walloped Richmond, 20-9, while El Sobrante edged San Pablo, 8-7.

Legion play this weekend is as follows:

Tomorrow, Concord at Orinda, Martinez at Rodeo, Lafayette at Walnut Creek, San Pablo at El Cerrito and Richmond at El Sobrante with El Cerrito drawing a bye.

On tap Sunday are Rodeo at Orinda, Walnut Creek at Concord, Lafayette at Martinez, North Richmond at El Cerrito, Richmond at San Pablo and El Sobrante with the bye.

Dame Announces First Schedule For Thunderbirds

The first season's schedule for the LaMorinda Thunderbirds was announced today by Joseph Dame, president of the team.

Dame said practice for the team will begin August 6, and all young boys interested in signing up for the squad may do so by calling him at MUlberry 5-3277.

The team will represent Lafayette, Orinda and Moraga, and practices and home games will be held at Miramonte High School. All games will be played on Sundays, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

The Thunderbirds represent the county's third team representative in the national Pop Warner Football League.

Dame listed the following seven-game schedule:

September 18, Millbrae Lions at home; September 25, Castro Valley Dons at home; October 2, Midway Mites at San Francisco; October 9, Contra Costa Pioneers of Pleasant Hill at home; October 16, San Francisco Hibernians at San Francisco; October 23, San Bruno Rams at San Bruno; October 30, West Contra Costa Rockets at San Pablo; and November 6, bye.

Hardtop Highlights....

Moreda Beats Some Top Contenders at Speedway

Petaluma's number two boy, Don Moreda, managed to wrest the 25-lap main event away from the top contenders Saturday night at Contra Costa Speedway. Moreda went from start to finish in number one position.

This feat doesn't seem too remarkable until you note that following Moreda to the checker were the much hotter qualifying cars of Wally Baker, Leroy Geving, Hugh Purdy and Chet Thomson.

The up and coming Bill Deschamps of Lakeport was sixth. Watch this driver, he'll be a threat to the top contenders before the year is over.

Napa's Gene Dudley won the semi main event. Usually an 'A' driver, it was most unusual for Dudley to be running the B. Mechanical difficulties or slow qualifications make it necessary for even champions to take a back seat occasionally.

Second in the semi was Ted Gratriex, also of Napa, Steve Mentch of Oakland, Tom Green of San Francisco and Novato's Pee Wee Waybright.

Santa Rosa's Bob Elliott took one of the hardest flpis of the year in this event. After being hit into the fence, Elliott's five quick snap rolls terminated with his coming to rest on his top, left the more than 3000 fans stunned and silent. A quick check by the ambulance drivers found him to be just shaken up.

In the fast fourth heat the battle was hot and heavy, finally being taken by Hugh Purdy, with Bill Deschamps and "His Honor" Jack Clayton right in his dust. Clayton, starting in eighth spot, is proving himself to be an excellent traffic man.

Unfortunately Clayton blew his third transmission in five weeks during the final, and had to run the main event in high gear. He finished twelfth. Following Clayton in the fourth heat were Rod Zanaline and Leroy Geving both of Petaluma.

The third heat was won by Pee Wee Waybright in a close duel with Don Moreda. Third and fourth were Ted Montague of Hayward and Chet Thomson of San Lorenzo.

San Francisco's Tom Green took the second heat followed by Ted Gratriex, Ray Kelsey of Santa Rosa, and Roland Lokmor of Concord.

Keith Willis of Hayward won the first heat, followed by Dave Logan of Concord, and "Galloping Gill" Richardson of Pleasant Hill. Richardson is going to get his second trophy yet this year. He already has many of the fans' votes as the most improved driver of the year.

Willis took his first trophy of the year—last week, followed by Pee Wee Waybright and Hugh Purdy.

The final heat was taken by Gene Dudley, with Chet Thomson and Ted Gratriex running third and fourth.

If you plan to enter the Destruction Derby, here's a reminder that there aren't many entry blanks left. Wednesday, June 22 is the big day. See Frank Blado for information and blanks.

On Friday, July 2, there will be an all midget show at CC Speedway. Hardtop racing will continue as usual on the next night.

Tomorrow night's card will carry a 25-lap main event. Time trials at 7:15, first race at 8:30.

HOLDING THE championship trophy won by the Diablo Country Club's six-man golf team in the recent Monterey Peninsula Country Club Invitational are Fred Udall (left) and Bill Houston. Play was held at the Monterey Peninsula and Cypress Point courses. Other members of the team were Bud Shank, Ray Haywood, Art Anderson and Ray Wulfert. Shank finished third individually in the entire field.

Dons, Knights Each Land Five on All-Star Squad

The coaches of the Foothill Division met Tuesday afternoon and after considerable debate came up with their annual all-division selections as they picked an all-league first and second team.

The coaches placed 11 on the first nine as they honored two catchers and two pitchers on the top clubs.

Acalanes, which won the circuit championship, placed five on the first team while runner-up Las Lomas landed five with San Ramon placing one. Six seniors, four juniors and one sophomore won the coveted spots.

THE FIRST TEAM selected, with school and grade shown is:

Catchers—Lou Cosso (A 12); Harold Stephenson (LL 12).

Pitchers: Tom Strain (A 11); Bill Remy (LL 11).

First base: Bob Lang (SR 12); second base: (Don Nelson (A 12); third base: Lou Pejovich (A 12); shortstop: Bob Morris (LL 12); outfield: Bob Samuels (LL 12); John Jones (A 10); Dick Couch (LL 11).

Lou Cosso and Bob Morris were the only repeat selections from the 1959 team.

THE SECOND TEAM, consisting of 10 players, is made up of several who received votes for the first team selection.

The team found Miramonte with three positions while Piedmont landed one spot

The team selected: Catcher: Bob Hilger (M); pitcher: Denny Toll (A 11); Jim Tonascia (M 11); first base: Eric Nankevil (LL 12); second base: Randy Thaman (M); third base: Rene Brandol (LL 11); shortstop: Stew Fox (A 11); outfield: Bill Clayton (P); Bib Gillham (A); Wayne Forsell (SR).

Member Drive

Many new members of Round Hill Country Club were signed up Sunday when the club's first official function, a "Sprouting-Outing" was held near the second tee on the Alamo course, according to club president, John Sparrowk.

Ram Track Star Places Fourth

The state prep track meet held at Stanford last Saturday found Jordan High of Los Angeles copping the team title with 15 points with Castlemont High of Oakland in the runner-up spot with 14.

Top race of the day was the 880 in which the first three men broke the national record, with Ray Van Usten of Bonita High School winning in 1:51.9.

Three other state marks fell by the wayside as Bob Bond of Riverside High won the 120 high hurdles in 13.9 and the 180 lows in 18.8. Bill Cowlings of Fowler won the 100 yard dash in 09.7 and the 220 in 21 flat.

Tom Webb of Pleasant Hill was the only Diablo Valley athletic league representative to place as he nailed down a fourth place in the 100-yard dash with a 9.9.

Jerry Greene of Alhambra cleared 5' 10' in the high jump, finishing in a three-way tie for 13th, while Jim McGrath of Clayton Valley was 11th in the 880. Pittsburg's Don Brockett cleared 12-6 in the pole vault for seventh.

Selecting All Stars Can Often Cause Controversy

By ERWIN MATTSON

The Foothill Division of the Diablo Valley Athletic League met Tuesday and made up their first and second teams for the 1960 baseball season.

As always, there was some unanimous agreement while in other selections there was a great deal of controversy.

The end result is always different than anyone coach would select. One is naturally prejudiced in favor of his own players as a general rule. Sometimes he is not because of his close contact which enables him to know weaknesses such as practice work and general attitude which another coach would have no opportunity to observe other than at game time.

Often a player may play in a limited capacity against one particular club and then not have a chance to be seen as the schedule consists of 12 league games.

The end result is often times a lot of guessing and a great variance of judgment on the part of coaches.

The only thing certain is that any selection with rare exceptions will become a controversial issue.

I see where Jim Liggett former Mt. Diablo High player and more recently of the Cal frosh signed for a good bonus with Baltimore. Rumor has the bonus from $18,000 to $40,000. A good source quotes a $30,000 figure.

Bonus players as such are usually paid over several years on the basis of a salary in order to cut Uncle Sam's percentage down.

Ligget was an all Diablo Division choice for three years as an outfielder and was the area's top hitter and was consistent in college play, as he stroked the ball for close to a 400 batting average.

The question always arises as to whether one should sign with three years of college ahead of him.

A good bonus is very tempting and could disappear as the result of a bad year but somehow I always regret seeing a player leave school particularly when he is a top student such as Liggett who has better than a B average which is no easy accomplishment at the Berkeley institution of higher learning.

He states that he plans to finish school in the off season. He is a personable guy, and everyone that knows him wishes all the best of luck.

Grid season is just around the corner and it is to be hoped that players will start getting in condition during the summer and not wait until the season opens late in August.

Running and setting up exercise as well as work in specialties should be the order of the day starting early in July.

Summer recretaion program are in the offing with swimming and baseball sharing tne spotlight. Basketball is also getting summer play with league play in the offing.

Look for swimming to become a summer competitive deal as it is one sport that is really growing fast and takes in all age groups. Swimming records will be falling fast as a result.

A dedicated group has done a fine job with the water game and look for the local area to become a strong swim center. Climate and available facilities plus an active program will see to that.

Hey, Kids, Job Hunting? Try the Free Sun Ads!

Sometimes, when you are a teenager and you are looking for summer work, things can be pretty difficult.

But they don't have to be!

So, once again, The Sun is offering free work wanted classified advertisements from teenagers turing school vacation this summer as a part of a continuing program begun several years ago.

ANY TEENAGE is eligible. All you have to do is come into a Sun office at 1320 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, or 1001 Oak Park Road, Lafayette, and place your ad.

THE AD WILL appear for two weeks, giving you two insertions in The Sun Shopping News on Wednesday, and two in The Walnut Creek Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun, Orinda Sun and Lafayette Sun on Friday.

Only one series of ads will be accepted from any youngster and they will not be changed during the insertion time.

Save Sale Slips for Free Stubs

If you are one of those people who can't stand to throw anything away, you may find it easy to collect a FREE ticket to the Giants-Dodgers game at Candlestick Park, July 17.

Broadway Shopping Center is giving away a thousand of those coveted stubs.

The trick is to save all your sales slips during Giant Broadway Days, now in progress. and running through June 18.

BROADWAY has a great variety of things you need—from groceries to records — so it shouldn't be long before those sales slips total $100.

The free ticket is then yours for the asking.

Only adults, 18 years of age and older may qualify.

None of the tickets will be sold. They are for Broadway customers only.

THE SALES slips may be redeemed for free tickets on June 17 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, 2 to 5 and 7 to 9, and also on June 18 from 10 to 12 noon and 2 to 5.

Take your sales slips to booths in front of the Lucky Store.

Then make your plans for a terrific day, as the Giants and Dodgers hold their finale of a three-day test of strength.

The sales slips must be dated for the period of Giant Broadway Days.

And employees of Broadway stores and MacDonald Products Company are not eligible.

Giant Days Meaning? Giant Values!

Giant Broadway Days which started yesterday are MORE than just free tickets to the Giant-Dodger tilt at Candlestick Park, and more than the carnival of sports information and techniques (Sports Day, tomorrow).

These days will be devoted to the sports-minded and outdoor families who are preparing for an active summer.

Broadway Shopping Center merchants will offer the best of a new, up-to-date stock of summer clothing and equipment, also summer things for the home—and prices are low for volume sales.

George Webster, president of the Broadway Merchants Association, said, "Take a look around and become a believer—when you visit Broadway, see the Sports Show, find out how you can win one of the 1000 free tickets to the July 17 Giants-Dodgers game at Candlestock.

"Giant Broadway Days is something we have been planning for months. They are 10 days (ending June 18) which should be well remembered!

"Not just a value here and there—but real values in what you need NOW!" Webster declared.

Bd'way to Put Thousand Fans In Free Seats

A thousand area fans will be sitting in free seats during the Giants-Dodgers game at Candlestock, July 17, and all because they participated in the Giant Broadway Days, which will run through June 18.

The special event will be sponsored by the Broadway Shopping Center Merchants Association, which has become famous for its original and customer-satisfying promotion events.

Giant Broadway Days will feature hundreds of special sales arranged for this time only.

The July 17 game at Candlestick is expected to be a thriller, since it will be the last of a series of three between the ancient rivals.

Then it will be September before the Dodgers again return to San Francisco for another go.

KEEP CLEAN

Never let oil accumulate on your garage floor to coat your tires and rot the rubber, advises the National Automobile Club.

DEADLY WEAPON

An automobile driven by a careless driver is a deadly weapon, warns the National Automobile Club.

Four-Star 'Sports Day' Is Tomorrow in Broadway

"Sports" Day, part of the Giant Broadway Days, will offer a four-star program tomorrow at the Broadway Shopping Center.

Pro Norm Tauscher will reveal his secrets of good golfing.

The Diablo Bowmen will make hash of that bullseye.

ART EVANS, past president of the Associated Sportsmen of California, will show how it's done with rod and reel.

The "Bouncing Bears" will get a real workout on the suddenly-popular trampoline.

All this — for each and every person who visits Broadway and is interested in getting a fast start in summer activities.

Some of the shows will be presented in front of the Lucky Store.

OTHERS will be close by, across the street from Sterling Furniture, behind the Broadway Pharmacy.

Norm Tauscher, to whom the executives at Roundhill Country Club pay respectful attention, will hold his "clinic" at 10 and again at 2:30.

Take your pick of morning or afternoon.

Norm has been swinging clubs (golf, that is) for 31 years and has been a pro for 14 years.

BEFORE HE took over the Roundhill fairways, he was the pro at Diablo Country Club for six years, and was associated with the California Country Club, San Francisco.

You know all there is to know about golf? Norm will surprise you.

The Diablo Bowmen include men, women, boys and girls, and their greatest job is the twang of the bowstring and the thud at dead center bulleye.

There are about a hundred of them, and many, like veteran member June Middlekauff, have picked up trophies in competition.

Mrs. Middlekauff became state champion in the "Bare Bow 125 Class" last week in Los Angeles.

Members meet each month in Martinez and have the use of the Martinez City Park for firing at 28 targets.

THEY'RE social people, too, and last Saturday held a dance at the Concord Sportsmen's Club.

The Bowmen go into action at 11:30, and again at 1:15.

Art Evans says, "I don't go in for those big boats and heavy equipment. You can do a lot with a rowboat, good but not fancy equipment, and a little knowledge."

The knowledge part of fly casting will be provided by Art at 11 a.m. and again at 2 p.m.

HE WILL probably be encouraged to tell about the big ones that got away in the waters of Europe, Mexico and the good old U.S.A!

Trampoline looks easy, but it isn't.

But it's quite a satisfaction to become skilled and increase your agility.

The "Bouncing Bears" will have their ups and downs at 10:45 a.m. and at 1.

IN CASE you may think Art Evans is a fish out of water without rod and reel, Broadway has persuaded him to bring along his rifle.

At 11:25 and again at 2:25 he will carefully point out the facts of life for those who say, "Why worry. The gun's not loaded."

"Sports Day" is a fast-paced, exciting promotion event planned by Broadway as part of its wonderful Giant Broadway Days which run through June 18.

Bright Hibiscus Is Much Sturdier Than It Looks

Hibiscus is generally considered a fragile beauty. While this is true of some tropical evergreen hibiscus, there are several varieties which are rugged and require only sunny exposure and good garden conditions. As there are over 200 species of this member of the mallow family (including the herbs moscheutos and okra) it would take a book to give specific cultural notes for each.

The toughest of ornamental hibiscus is Rose-of-Sharon, although you'd never guess it by its exotic, hollyhock-like flowers in singles or doubles. The blooms open successively along the multiple stems from midsummer until winter. Rose-of-Sharon never frosts back.

LESS HARDY varieties may be knocked to the ground by Jack Frost. But never count them out. Come spring, they make a startling recovery. Your California Association of Nurserymen offers the "fighting" hibiscus in a wide assortment of colors. The added range from whites to scarlets beyond the purplish blues of the older forms have given them a new lease on the gardener's affection.

The CAN advises that hibiscus need full sun. If possible, plant in a warm, protected spot. A patio wall, for instance, is ideal. Other recommendations are: A regular watering, spraying and feeding program. A mulch applied during the hottest period of summer is helpful. You'll be rewarded with an upright woody shrub from five to 12 feet tall with profuse blooms. Some varieties have a silken texture and grow to the size of an eight inch salad plate. Particularly in old California gardens, you'll see huge specimens.

HIBISCUS IS excellent as a planting foundation or as decorative relief in containers on a paved area. Because of its bold textured foliage and spectacular flowers, it's most effective in self-groupings or with shrubs which don't offer too much competition. In some coastal cities, hibiscus make picturesque liners dotting the streets. Home gardeners might take a hint from this and use them to break the monotony of a long drive or walk.

Rose-of-China hibiscus, the type famous in Hawaii, thrive in frost-free areas of California, or where they can be moved into a glass house for winter protection. Giant flowers in colors which are no less than dazzling make Rose-of-China worth coddling in colder climates.

HURRY, HURRY! Like barkers of old, these gentlemen will offer free tickets to the Giants-Dodger game at Candlestick Park July 17 in a "give-away" sponsored by the Broadway Merchants Association. Waving tickets are Bill Schatz, left, manager of Smiths Clothiers and James Thomp son, the new manager of Sterling Furniture. Details of the big event will be relea sed soon. —Sun photo by Bob Rush.

County Planners Set New Hearing

The County Planning Commission will hold a new public hearing July 5 on the controversial precise zoning plan for the Moraga area.

The decision to hold a new hearing at the planning commission level was made recently after the six-year-old Moraga zoning battle was thrown back into the planners' hands by the County Board of Supervisors.

CHAIRMAN MEL Nielsen of the board of supervisors suggested, after the supervisors and planning commissioners discussed the Moraga plan, that the countywide master plan be reviewed by the commission for possible revisions and then sent back to the supervisors for approval in a package.

Nielsen said that after the countrywide master plan is approved, there can be immediate action on the Moraga precise zoning plan.

Both the master plan and the precise zoning plan have been approved earlier by the planning commission and sent to the supervisors for their approval.

BUT PRINCIPAL County planner Russell Griffith said although "the whole concept of the Moraga plan was based on a balanced community . . . there is still some opposition to the proposal."

He indicated this opposition was particularly to the inclusion of 280 acres for controlled manufacturing zoning.

A large majority of the 8000 acres in the Moraga area is owned by the Utah Construction Company, which proposes to construct a model community, complete with some manufacturing and administrative and professional offices.

NIELSEN suggested that the planning commission confer with a Moraga citizens' committee which is heading the objection to the controlled manufacturing provision.

The board chairman said, "I go along with the planning department that certain areas should be designated for controlled manufacturing, but if that's done the citizen committee would like to have strengthening of the controlled manufacturing ordinance."

Planning commissioners removed a small portion of the controlled manufacturing proposal when about 200 Moraga citizens attended a commission meeting several months ago. It was at that meeting that the commission adopted the precise zoning plan.

Giant Broadway Days to Offer Free Giants Stubs

Lots of people who have never seen the San Francisco Giants perform will have the time of their lives as a result of the "Giant Broadway Days," now through June 18.

"Giant Broadway Days," sponsored by the Broadway Shopping Center Merchants Association, will feature the giving away of 1000 tickets to the July 7 Sunday game between the Giants and Dodgers at Candelstick Park, San Francisco.

George Webster, Association president, said, "As our long-time customers know, this is the time of year when we trot out our special sales and emphasize summer items in addition to those for the home. Our merchants, I promise, will make Giant Broadway Days something to remember."

A highlight of the nine-day event will be the big Sports Day in Broadway tomorrow.

Sports clinics and demonstrations will be offered in front of Lucky Store and in the lot behind Broadway Pharmacy.

There will be a golf clinic, archery demonstrations, trampoline demonstrations, a fly casting show and others. The one-hour shows will be at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Details of the 1000-ticket giveaway will be released soon, said Webster.

He added, "It's always a pleasure to arrange these events, and the people usually tell us they are a pleasure to watch!"

Mrs. Bradshaw Heads Camp Fire Leaders

Mrs. Margaret Bradshaw of Walnut Creek has been elected chairman of the Camp Fire Leaders Association, serving the central county.

Other officers are Mrs. June Queen of Walnut Creek, vice chairman; Mrs. Connie Prevallet of Walnut Creek, secretary; Mrs. Margaret Trevarthen of Orinda, corresponding secretary; Mrs. June Thompson of Alamo, treasurer.

DeMaria Again Scout Leader

Joseph DeMaria of Orinda has been re-elected chairman of the Meridian District of Boy Scouts, it was announced.

He was installed recently during the district's annual meeting in Las Lomas High Schol, Walnut Creek.

Betsy Matlock Is Advertising Mgr.

Betsy Matlock has been appointed classified advertising manager of The Sun newspapers. She replaces Mrs. Lynn Grace who resigned after her marriage last month.

Mrs. Matlock was formerly office manager in the Walnut Creek office of The Sun. The position vacated by Mrs. Matlock has been filled by Arlene Brown of Concord.

Another addtiion to the staff is Bob Holt, who will be an advertising representative. He comes to The Sun from the San Francisco Chronicle and has had many years experience in the advertising field both in newspaper work and on the agency level.

If Dad Likes to Hunt, Fish, Then This Is for Him

The outdoor sports season is in full bloom at Father's Day time and the many Dads and Grand-dads who participate in those fun-filled diversions will appreciate gifts of sportswear that will help them enjoy their favorite recreations.

Swimming is probably the most popular of all warm weather sports, so if your Dad is one of those who look forward to a plunge in the surf, lake or pool give him a gift of swim wear.

THERE ARE handsome cabana sets from which to select the one "just right for him." These outfits, comprising matched trunks and beach shirts, are made in a multitude of styles. Ranging from solid colors to fancy prints and woven designs, they include light, medium and dark shades of the summer's newest colors. Some of the cabana set shirts are lined with terry cloth for added comfort after the swim.

OTHER SWIM trunks, beach jackets, beach robes, beach sandals, fun-styled straw and cloth beach hats and huge oversized beach towels are fine gifts for the swimmer.

Golfing Dads and Grand-dads, whether they are "hackers" or club champs, are easy to gift on Father's Day. Presents ranging from a complete set of golfing clothes to a new pair of golf gloves include such items as golf shirts, either of the cut-and-sewn or knit types. The former are made in all of the cool absorbent cottons and some have knitted inserts to provide plenty of "give" for those powerful swings.

The all-knit golf shirts are made with longer back tails to help keep them snugly tucked under the slacks or shorts for neat appearance.

SPECIALLY designed golf slacks with tee-holders and towel straps would be a welcome gift, too. These come in bright hues as well as the traditional colors and some of the most popular golf shorts are now made of India Madras. Wind and rain resistant golf jackets that can be folded small enough to fit into a golf bag as protection against sudden summer showers as well as for use on chilly mornings, will be appreciated, too.

There also are cushion-foot golf socks, golf caps and golf hats with which to gladden Dad's heart.

If he needs a new or extra pair of golf shoes, give him a gift certificate from his favorite sporting goods or shoe store.

Fashing Dads always need washable slacks, big-pocketed cool cotton shirts, warmer flannelette shirts, canvas and rubber coated gloves in addition to specialized clothes for their particular type of fishing.

If they are fly-casters they like those sturdy cotton jackets with big roomy pockets as well as special devices for holding their prize lures.

Surf fishermen go for hip-boots and rubberized coveralls, boat fishermen need non-skid rubber soled shoes as well as warm jackets and water and wind resistant jackets.

Summer Fashions Are Just the Thing for Dad!

Your clothing gifts to Dad on Father's Day can serve the two-fold purpose of improving both his comfort and appearance.

The new clothing, furnishings and sportswear for summer 1960 are as easy on the eye as they are on the body and many of them have the added virtue of being easy to care for.

TAKE THE NEW tropic-weight suits, for instance. In addition to the traditional pure wool worsteds, these now are made in blends of man-made fibers with wool, man-made fibers with cotton and blends of two or more of the test-tube yarns.

The new blends have improved "hand," that is—they feel better, they hold their press even when dampened by summer showers or humid weather, they shed unwanted wrinkles and many of the suits made of the new blends can be washed and worn without the need of pressing.

New soft olive shades supplement the traditional grays, blues, tans and browns. There are more plaid and check patterns in summer suits, too.

BRAND NEW featherweight sport jackets made of fabrics blended of wool or worsted with man-made fibers are equally as cool as the suits. These casual jackets will sport bold glen plaids, handsome district checks and some will even be made of printed patterns.

Neat, conservative patterns and solid color jackets are very popular too. Perhaps your Dad would like a lightweight solid color blazer in one of the new shades of blue, gray, green or black.

Cool, crisp slacks and walk shorts made of the new fabrics are just as popular in patterns as they are in the plain shades. If your Dad is a golfer, get him a pair of the specially designed golf slacks.

LIGHTWEIGHT voiles, batistes, skipdents and lenos give a wide choice in the selection of summer business shirts.

Soft blues, tans, grays and greens supplement the traditional whites and you will find every collar style in the half-sleeved summer shirts.

Get a good assortment of sport shirts for Dad and Grand-dad. They will want bold patterns to wear with plain slacks and jackets, and plain colors to wear with their patterned outfits.

THE NEW summer straw hats make a dandy Father's Day gift, too. He may need a dressy sailor style sennit, or he may prefer one of the soft crushable straws. Among the other popular straws are milans, leghorns, coconuts, and ramies.

Beachwear for Dad's Day

Beachwear for Father's Day 1960 is sure to make a hit with skin divers, sun bathers and fellows who merely enjoy a leisurely dip.

For younger fathers, as well as for those more mature fellows who take their crawl strokes and six-beat kicks seriously, you might select a couple of pair of the popular knit trunks. These range from ankle-lengths to bi kini-like briefs.

Cabana sets of matching swim trunks and beach jackets keyed to fun in the sun encompass such diversified styles as exotic prints, salty styles and neat traditional patterns.

BEACH ROBES, terry cloth ponchos, beach sandals, pull-overs and one-piece jumper suits for after swim dry-offs are other excellent beachwear gifts.
